Honesty in Little Things.

The following curious account of a practical sermon is copied from the Vermont Chronicle: "A brother in the ministry took occasion to preach on the passage in Luke xvi, 10; 'Ho that is unjust in the least is imjust also in much, The theme was, 'that men who take advantage in small things of others, have the very element of character to wrong the community and individuals in great things, where the prospect of be dreaded.' The preacher exposed the varis ways by which people wrong others; such it for as borrowing; by mistake in making change by errors in accounts; by escaping taxes and custome house duties; by managing to escape quistings; by finding articles and never seeking owners; and by injuring articles borrowed, and never uniking the fact known to the owner action to religious escentially side in the first they have nothing to do in this share pure and invigorance, especial when returned to the part and they first they have nothing to do in this share pure and invigorance and said, the next day met and the coast. A Call to the Minstry.

Before preceding to adduce the evidence of eat the fruit of his own d ings, and was a sad a call, we will attempt to reply to a very solemn question, which, perhaps, some one may be reathe Almighty. From the day he resolved to dy to ask, what is a man to do who is proceedting a course of preparation for the ministry, charge of the dissipating tendencies of that a., and who has serious and perplexing doubts in regard to his personal piety? We will preface our reply to this question with a remark : The fact of a man's doubting may be a favorable, rather than an unfavorable symptom.

Understand us-we do not mean to say that there is any thing meritorious in doubting, or that a state of doubt is in itself desirable. In however shows that there is some concern on the subject. The case is possible, and we suppose has sometimes occurred, that the Christian buking presumptions sons, by signary provide them the day of his conversion has such clear in the degree of everage not of spiritual lim. our settle, and give as command there and but him to be a settle. Again, doubling man bught to expect a severer punck mean thus that the man toy of an effect seems to have which falls upon ordinary tran-gressors -Res been produced on the mind of Isaiah, when, after an extraord nary view of the glory of God. he excluded, "Woe is me! for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for mine eves have seen the King the Lord of hosts." This sense of unworthiness had a most happy influence on the prophet; and consequently we soon find him prepared to go forward in his misweather, the loss of our Pressman, and other sion, cheerfully responding to the call of God; ensualties beyond our controll, we have been "Here am I; send me." The fact is most young men preparing for the ministry, that they weeks past. As we have, however, at length may be fitted for the work of their higher calling, need to undergo some such process as this. ation, we shall hope, without some at acceleraty What effect does your doubting have on you !calamity, to keep tuity op with our time in future. Does it lead you to examine your heart? Does is carl volto the word of God, and the throne helped; we shall say to give an satisfaction of grace? ACHILLI AND NEWMAN .- The English correpondent of the Commercial Advertiser writes .-"A trial of great interest will soon occupy our law courts. Dr. Actilli, who e conversion to hotestanism and imprisonment at Rome, will be in the recollection of your readers, has obtained a criminal in mation against Dr. Newman, the tractarian, who left Oxford some years ago to become a Catholic priest. The ground of prosecution is a sibel in a pempulet by Dr. Newman, in which he charged Dr. Achir i with 'extraordimary depravity, and called him a profligate, and hypocrite. An attempt has been made by the detenuant to get the trial postponed entil Easter in order that he might bring witnesses from Italy to substantiate his calumnious assestions; but as in his affidalit he did not intimate any specific evidence that he was prepared to send for, and as he had moreover abstained with considerable caution from s wearing that he believed the truth of the libels he had promulgated, the application was refused and the case therefore will come on sometime between this and January."
