CLIPPINGS AND COMMENTS.

It is stated that the choir of the

Stockwell Orphanage, London, is to make an American tour next winter. This is the institution which was founded by Mr. Spurgeon and is still conducted by the Tabernacle.

The Campbellite falsehood that there is no difference between

"Disciples" and Baptists has fooled

many an uninformed person into the ranks of the self-styled "Christians," who at heart is away from home there—Baptist News.

The following piece of wisdom

from the Baptist News is commendable to some churches within our knowledge:

New York and Boston Notes.

A stay of a week in New York was rendered very pleasant by the kind attention and courtesy of Mr.

James A. Harris and his excellent wife, once of Greenville, Ala., reinforced in no small measure by my young friend, Mr. Horace Vin-

son. These kind friends took me

under their sheltering care and enabled me, in many ways, to make my stay in the great metropolis

both pleasant and profitable.

The interesting features of New York are both many and diverse.

One finds himself constantly on the run trying to scoop in as much as possible during his stay. One of the most interesting points visited by me was

COLUMBIA COLLEGE,

which is within view of the Hudson river and near Riverside Park.

The spacious and beautiful grounds

of Columbia, the superb buildings and princely endowment, were quite sufficient to make a Southern educator's mouth water. Think of its president, the Hon. Seth Low,

PLACED A WREATH

upon the tomb of Grant.

He seemed surprised and grieved at the noisy demonstrations about the tomb. On this occasion, the viewer was accompanied by Col. Fred

Grant, who, by the way, greatly resembles his father. He is now about as old as his father was when he took command of the army in Virginia.

After his visit to the tomb, Li went forthwith to pay his respects

to

MRS. GEN. GRANT.

The family had assembled to do honor to the Chinese ambassador, who was thoughtful enough to bring Mrs. Grant some handsome silk patterns and some rare tea.

Gen. Grant was a guest of Li's when he made his trip around the world.

Leaving New York, I came to

BOSTON,

where I am now. This is my first trip to New England. Boston overwhelms me with its historic associations. Coupled with a visit to

HARVARD UNIVERSITY,

to the hotel, the old man sat

stupidly back in the carriage, indifferent to the great demonstration on the streets.

Since his arrival he has been the lion of the metropolis. I did not see him until he visited the tomb of Grant. For hours in advance of his visit to the resting place of the great general, the crowds had gathered until there were present not less than 40,000 people. He alighted from his carriage, stepped into his

Sedan chair and was borne up the steps to the point where the grave

is. Four burly Irish policemen bore the royal visitor to the tomb.

Going on the inside Li who is regarded as ranking every other Baptist preacher of the meropolis. But I was deterred from doing so by the publication of the misleading article which Mr. Arthur proposed to inflict upon his audience. He gravely proposed to dis-suss the political situation every Sunday night. His first onslaught was upon the Chicago convention, and he characterized that body as being possessed of lungs, lunacy

and larceny. He said that the convention was controlled and frenzied

to be president.

A Pattern in Good Works.

The Catholic Review wishes that it "could transfer a little of the Endeavors' enthusiasm and intense zeal and devotion to the torpid,

half-hearted position of our own people who are mere nominal Catholics. There is no use in pool-pooling, much less in ridiculing this grand moral movement. Their aim and their motives are good.

For the present they seem to be doing a good work. Any organization of earnest, zealous, Christian people who aim at stemming the tide of corruption, purifying politics, elevating the moral tone of communities, and encouraging a more decided type of Christian citizenship, certainly is not to be despised. Nor need we be ashamed to emulate their zeal, their enterprise, and their aggressive devotion

in laboring for the good of their fellows.—Missionary Review.

SOME PLAIN TRUTHS.

The prime minister of Italy recently gave utterance to some plain truths as to the restless efforts of the Vatican to regain its temporal power: "It is not really for the protection and prestige of religion

that our adversaries demand the restoration of the temporal power of the Holy See, but for worldly reasons—out of lust of power and from earthly covetousness." Again:

"Christianity is a divine institution, which is not dependent upon earthly weapons for its existence.

The religion of Christ, as preached by Paul and Chrysostom, was able to subdue the world without the aid of temporal arms, and we cannot conceive why the Vatican party should be so much afraid of the people."—Evangelical

A. J. ERVIN, Dealer in General Merchandise, CRAWFORD, Miss., May 21, 1896. L. E. Hall's Hog Cholera Cure Co., New Orleans.

Gentlemen—I have used your cure for Hog Cholera, both as a preventive and a cure, and personally an entirely satisfied with results. I lost just one hog, and my little herd (12) before shipping the cure and not one after I commenced to use it. I loved one that I commenced with only three days. I have never had a hog to take the disease, and as long as I try to raise hogs, I will have the medicine on hand.

Yours truly, A. J. ERVIN.

Some Reflections.

Christ's Kingdom is spiritual, and his churches are of divine origin for the purpose of forwarding the divine plan of our divine Lord. Therefore, the men who govern them must themselves be governed by the Holy Spirit, if we would look for success.

Worldly plans, born of worldly wisdom, may not succeed, though apparently very wise, and though well thought out by very mighty men.

In order to success, we need to be directed by the blessed Paraclete, however simple and artless his directions may appear. It may be rather difficult for us to understand the meaning of the churches that do not depend upon our assistance and plans, but upon our obedience in executing the plans of our divine Master.

"Preach the gospel" may mean more than we allow it to mean. It may be that we have not fully realized that "the gospel is the power of God unto salvation." It may be that we are attempting to do more than our Lord has required in order to the success of his churches, and thus, while attempting to be more than ordinary servants, we are hindering the cause that we mean to forward.

Ed. Ala. Baptist: I will send you the money soon for another year's subscription. I cannot get along without the paper.

Leesburg is a station on the former Rome and Decatur road and now controlled by the Southern, and about midway between Gadsden and Rome. It is a thriving little hamlet. A few Baptists got together here and organized a church, and now have a new church building of modern style, painted and neatly furnished inside. We have services in it monthly. Bro. Cornelius, a most devoted Christian, is our pastor. We have but ten members, mostly poor. We have lost six members by emigration to the West. Still we hope to build a strong church here. This is a favorable point to build up a church. We have two railroads, and a navigable river plyed by boats the year round from Rome to Gadsden. This is a thickly settled and fertile region, abounding in coal, iron and timber. There are several Baptist churches in a radius of five or six miles of this place, and a number of local preachers, yet the mission cause languishes. We want some energetic evangelist to canvass this district, and help to place as up a higher plane of liberality. Some of the churches have been revived and increased their membership considerably this summer. Hope the good work will continue.

It is with great regret that we hear of Dr. R. J. Willingham's illness. He has been at Indian Springs trying to recover his strength. He finds it hard to rest, as his heart is burdened with the work he has to leave. Rev. A. J. Barton has just assumed charge as Assistant Secretary, and now finds himself with double work on him. We have not said as much about Bro. Barton as we might. It has been our pleasure to know him well and even intimately. He is a man of growing parts and possibilities. He has good round sense and vigorous health. With all, he is a royal good fellow.

He will do all around. We shall be glad to see him in Georgia next year or any other time.—Index.

Elder John Speer

Departed this life, at his residence near Trinity, Morgan county, July 22, 1906, in the 39th year of his age. Elder Speer was born in that part of Franklin county now called Colbert, September 1, 1867. While yet a child he was afflicted with the smallpox, and died upon the altar of his father's great shadow upon his young life. He was devoted to him. At the age of 17 he joined the (Alabama Baptist church, in Lawrence county. His greatest desire was to glorify God in doing his will, whatever that might be. He felt it to be his duty to preach the gospel, though he was poorly prepared to do so, as he had very little education. He was ordained as a minister in Oklahoma church Aug. 15, 1891, by a presbytery composed of Elders J. J. Stamps, W. C. Summers, Isaac Bradford and John R. Neamith, and was called to the pastorate of that church. Being called to teach others, he felt the importance of acquiring at least a common school education, for he didn't even have to attend school and also provide for a young wife and widowed mother, was a question not easily decided in his circumstances. At this time the Muscle Shoals association was riding worthy upon good interest. Subject in the morning, "Giving;" at night, "A new song."

It is not great deeds but faithful lives that God rewards.

to help, and he entered Mountain

View High School, near Trinity, taught by Rev. Joseph Speer. He remained in school about four months, from January, 1887, to May, 1887. He again entered that school as a beneficiary of the board in 1887, and remained four months. This schooling aided him very much and enabled him to study at home with great success. During his attendance at school he did some pastoral work, and in vacation worked as a missionary for the association; this enabled him, by practicing strict economy, to support himself and family. He was pastor of Mt. Pisgah, Macedonia, East Decatur, Perry, Mission Grove, Mt. Pleasant, and Mt. Stanley churches, in the Muscle Shoals association, a Madison and New Zion churches in the Liberty association. Elder Speer was a zealous and earnest preacher, his whole heart being in the work. One of the greatest joys of his life was the thought of being in the ministry. A year and two previous to his death he had slight hemorrhages from the lungs, as he thought, and sometimes before his death he lost his voice, and was unable to speak above a whisper. His cough was very annoying. His permanent infirmity was his nervous condition, and he was conscious of his condition, and had no fears of death. He talked with the writer about his condition, and fully believed that he had not long to live, but was resigned to the Lord's will. At the meeting of our last association at Bethel he sent his farewell message. He did not believe that he would live to see another session of the association. He was not permitted to talk to his friends and loved ones who surrounded his death bed as he was unconscious for some time before he died, but we know he died in faith. His life was the life of a Christian. The short time he was permitted to preach the gospel he preached it, and accomplished much good. He was married at the age of 19 to Miss Sallie Bracken, daughter of Wm. Bracken, of Lawrence county. She and five children survive him. He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Trinity. The people of Trinity and vicinity were very kind to Bro. Speer and his family during his long illness, supplying them with such things as were needed. Brethren and sisters from other places also expressed their sympathy by their gifts. The kind friends in the L. & N. shops at Decatur likewise remembered the family after his death by a handsome donation. The family of Bro. Speer need help from the denomination. I hope they will be remembered.

THREE SHIPS.

Three ships there be sailing
Betwixt the earth and sky;
And one is Now, and one is Then;
And one is By and By.

The first little ship is all for you—
To make one gold, its sails are blue,
And this is the cargo it brings Joyful days with sunlight glowing,
Nights where dreams like stars are glowing;
Take them, Sweet, or they'll be going!
For they're every one have wings.

The second ship is all for me—
A sailing one, the twilight gray,
And out across the twilight gray,
What it brought by gift and blessing,
Would not stay for my caressing—
Was too dear for my possessing—
So it sails and sails away.

The last ship, riding far and high
Upon the sea, is By and By.
O wind, be kind, and gently blow!
Not too swiftly hasten hither.
When she turns, Sweet, you'll go with her—
Sailing, floating, hither, thither—
To what port I may not know.

Of the above it will be seen that one class in the Sunday school at Newton gave a large contribution. I want to commend their work to other Sunday schools. The ladies of the class made a quilt from the money they realized this handsome gift. The money they sent to buy bread for the orphans, and now they propose also to send the quilt that it may help to keep them warm during the winter. The Lord bless the givers.

A traveler on the highway, entering a Georgia town, observed a large school building near the road. Meeting a young native with an ox-wagon in his hand, he inquired, "What school is that?" "It's a boys' college," was the answer. "Has it a high grade curriculum?" "That's just what it has, but I didn't know what they called it. I saw about a dozen of the boys out last night, and they were havin' a curriculum on a party high grade, I can tell you." The traveler was enlightened.

Cultivating Orchards.

In the South our orchards are too often left without other care than a general cleaning and trimming up in the spring. The trees are then left to their fate, little attention being given to the insects which prey upon them; the diseases to which they are liable; the condition of the soil in which they are growing. Frequent cultivation of the orchard from early spring until late summer or early fall, is of the first importance if we would have good fruit and healthy trees. And the cultivation should begin as soon as the trees are well set. During the first year or two the planting of some crop, not too near the young trees, which will not interfere with them, either in shading too much or by robbing them of the necessary plant food, is no disadvantage. As the crop is cultivated, the trees may receive attention, and by this plan something may be realized from the land before they come into bearing. Almost any crop will answer, except small grains, which should never be allowed in an orchard under any circumstances. —Southern Cultivator.

It is said, with how much truth we do not know, that girls in the Eastern States are growing up in a cycle. And this is not because the position is objectionable, there being no side saddles yet invented, but because the bicycle game proves to be no joke of the doctors, but a sad reality, and the strained look it gives is most destructive to beauty.

SUSPICIOUS PRAISE.—"A good wife is heaven's greatest gift to man and the rarest gem the earth holds," remarked Mr. Jarphly the other morning.

He continued:

"She is his joy, his inspiration and his very soul."

He seemed to be thoroughly in sympathy with his subject. He added:

"Through her he learns to reach the pure and the true, and her loving hand leads him softly over the rough places!"

That he had not yet exhausted himself was evident, for he began again:

"She is—"

Divorce and Insanity.

Edgar Saltus, a writer of novels who wants to be called a "generalist," and not a "degenerate," has discovered that statistics compiled by the Germans show that insanity is ten times as frequent among divorced people of either sex, as among either those who have remained in a state of single blessedness or have acquired the state of marital happiness. From this, Mr. Saltus argues that "divorces not only wreck the home, but cause insanity."

affections are profoundly mysterious; the ties that association weaves are enigmatic realities; and when, through caprice, folly or sin, they are trampled on, it is nature that punishes the killing of love because the killing of reason." Mr. Saltus phrases sound pretty, but they are the veriest nonsense, written for the purpose of making copy. It is a deliberate putting of the cart before the horse. The German statistics only prove that it is people who are not perfectly sound mentally who marry people they cannot live with happily ever afterwards. Sane people have sense enough to marry a compatible companion, and grit enough to "grin and bear it" if they make a mistake. —Womankind.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

For several years we have watched, with a great degree of interest, changes that have been made all along the lines of progress. In all the trades, including printing and publishing of newspapers, magazines, etc., great improvement has been made. We have noticed that nine-tenths of the agricultural journals have changed from monthly to either semi-monthly or weekly editions.

The managers of the Cultivator have addressed to the country their monthly edition would answer all practical demands. Finally we have concluded that we are mistaken in this view, and have decided to print a semi-monthly edition, sending it out every two weeks instead of once a month as heretofore. If this change is pleasing to our readers, and they will all manifest their interest in our future enlarged success by helping to increase our subscription list so as to justify it, we will make still another change and send the Cultivator out regularly once a week, before Christmas, 1896.

The Southern Cultivator is the best paper for Southern farmers that we know. We club the ALABAMA BAPTIST with it for $2 a year for both papers.

To respect their teacher.
To hold their heads erect.

Dr. Reilly noticed that children taken to the seashore invariably improved when troubled with ringworms. He came to the conclusion it was the salt in the air which caused the improvement. He tried washing the skin with salt water twice a day and found this treatment most efficacious in curing ringworms.

The Pace that Kills.

In looking up a word in the dictionary several days ago my eyes fell on the definition of "emulation"—"the act of attempting to equal or excel in qualities or actions; rivalry; desire of superiority, attended with effort to attain it."

Only the evening before, we had been talking about a little woman who was once pretty, but now has a harassed and anxious expression of countenance.

"What is the matter with her?" asked one. It was a physician who answered:

"She has no disease. She is wearing herself to death by emulation of others. The strain will kill her if she keeps it up. Nobody in this world can stay first."

His words and the dictionary definition set me to thinking. Are not many women killing themselves by this same process? And how drearily unprofitable it all is, when one considers the truth of the physician's statement that "nobody in this world can stay first!"

Nobody! For, strive as we may, there is always some one with a little more money, a handsomer house, more influence, or perhaps more brains. There is merit in the desire to make the best of ourselves and of the talents given us. There is no credit due her who, because of "a desire for superiority" over another, wears herself out in attempting to do that which she cannot perform. Is this not one reason for the nervous, anxious look on the faces of our American women? They strive to do as well as their neighbors, with double their income; they give entertainments that empty the never-to-full purse, and they buy furniture for which they can only pay by rigid self-denial.

Were we only content as women to do just that which we can easily afford, how much more peaceful our lives would be, how much lovelier our children, how much more care free and youthful our mothers—these American husbands, the best in the world, who cannot bear to have their wives long for things that by an additional strain they might give them. And would not our lives be longer in the land? —Harper's Bazar.

Now that the children are ruining their pretty faces with fruit stains, the following easy method of taking the unsightly blotches out of white material may be found useful. Moisten the spot and hold under it a burning match, and the sulphurous gas will cause the stain to disappear. This will not do, however, for colored goods, as it will take out the color. But if, while the stain is fresh, you put it over a cup of pure boiling water through it, it will almost always take out the spot if it is done before washing. Soap almost always richly fixes any stain. It is, too, to remember at this time of the year, that you can prevent pretty new gingham from getting yellowed by several washings in water in which has been dissolved a goodly quantity of Half a pint of salt to a quart of boiling water is the ratio. If dress in it while the solution is dry and after several hours wring dry and wash as usual.

The story is told of a guest in the Scotch Foreign office, pacing back and forth before a door, was accustomed to do one approaching. "Keep left," a new chief, recently in possession of the office, came to know what it was, and on investigation, learned, five years ago, when a new chief had been appointed, the people to avoid the fresh. He had repeated his orders, during all the fifty years, having ordered a discontinue of precision of formal service, but that only one who is allowed to give an order is entitled to recall it or change its force. The Light Brigade at Balaclava.

So those who receive commands from our Lord and Master.

Mr. J. Hudson Taylor estimates that there are 50,000,000 famines in China, and says one evangelist could visit fifty families a day. England sent out a thousand missionaries, in three years, he says. Would the churches in England and America raise 500 million perhaps the other 500 could be raised among the native sons of China.

It is a sweet, a joyful thing to be a sharer with Christ in anything. All enjoyments wherein he is bitter to the soul that he him, and all sufferings with him are sweet. The worst thing that his afflictions are sweeter than pleasures; his reproach more than treasures, as Moses accounted them. —Archbishop Leighton.

Do not give the baby more every time it cries, especially the hot weather. Very often infants suffer from real thirst, milk—their food—will not in any way satisfy this natural craving. If the child cries when it is time for another meal, give it water, plain, cold, filtered, with a spoon, or in a tiny medicine glass. Water given in this way will supply the demand of nature, and bring sleep, which would cause discomfort. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Poultry should be fed three times a day, giving at each meal an eaten up clean of a sufficient quantity to keep them with a good appetite.

One reason of failure to make a fine article of butter is in keeping the cream too long before churning and not stirring sufficiently, as the best butter cannot be made from very sour cream.

When the butter is in the granular stage every particle of it comes in contact with the brine, which renders it, and at the same time, better keeping qualities.
