FRIENDSHIP TRIED.

Friends in time of trouble are ofttimes the source of great consolation. When in need, either of temporal support or human sympathy, the human heart goes out after Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my as a prisoner, it cost something to clutches of Nero's guards. That arm had stretched out over the listening multitude on Mars Hill; the same and at the same time productive. at Melita, and written many epistles inspired of heaven. His friend Onesiphorus is "not ashamed" of that chain; it is rather a precious ornament in his sight. It illustrated constancy to Christ; it clanked out an eloquent eulogy as Paul drew it over the prison floor. That chain was a crown.

tained these elders and he had heard them preach, and had read their literature. While our preachers are engaged in secular pursuits to obtain a living for their families, this work is going on. Some say there is no cause for alarm. What mean those seventeen hundred Mormon elders? And sixty-three thousand converts last year to Mormonism? I am not alone in my belief that this is the greatest foe to the Baptist cause in our country. Some of our ablest men are awaking to this fact. I thank God that we have many noble people even in the rural districts; they are diamonds in the rough. While I don't know much about Higher Criticism, I believe I know about the things that are enacted daily in our own country.

I will be free to assist pastors in revival meetings this summer. Any church needing my help will please write me. LO. A. PACE. Russellville.

The twentieth and most successful year in the history of the Georgia Female Seminary and Conservatory of Music is just drawing to a close. More than one hundred and fifty boarders have been in attendance, representing eleven states. Thirty-three diplomas will be delivered.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Dr. C. E. Dowman. of Emory College, and the Annual Address by Mr. Lucien L. Knight, of Atlanta. One of the most interesting features of the Commencement will be a contest for a magnificent Everett piano by seven young ladies, as follows: Miss Janie Williams, Furman, Ala.; Miss Annie Lou Booker, Milledgville, Ga.; Miss Eva Ware, Albany, Ga.; Miss Ray Sponcler, Newnan, Ga.; Miss Maude Yarbrough, Hendersonville, N. C.; Miss Ethel Skinner, Furman, Ala.; Miss Nofee Dozier, Gainesville, Ga.

A summer session of the Conservatory and Departments of Languages and Literature will be held, beginning June 14. All railroads give reduced rates to Gainesville during Commencement and the summer session. May 24.

The friendship and devotion which Onesiphorus displayed while the great apostle was confined in chains and kept bound as a prisoner, not knowing what would be his fate, is worthy of imitation.

I have two churches, Rock Spring and Antioch, to which I preach once a month. I hope to accomplish some good to the glory of the Master. Poverty in this, our time, should be a letter of recommendation when it is the result of devoted service in the cause of the Master, or is chosen rather than knavery or unjust gains. We know of certain sterling Christians, men of true "grit," whose honest poverty is more honorable to them than the wealth of the Goulds or the Asters. To "snub" such faithful disciples of Jesus in their reverses, their poverty, is a disgrace abominable as if Onesiphorus had "cut" his old spiritual father Paul when he heard he was in prison.

meetings in which the power of the Spirit took hold of the people in a way that would impress any one attending that the power was divine. Many gave their hand for prayer at every service, and there was not a service that was not full of interest. We had 43 additions. Since the meeting closed, at our regular services we have had eight others to join, making 51 additions in all, about 30 of them by baptism. Our church has been greatly revived. Some who were baptized soon began talking in our prayer meetings.

The revival influence is still penetrating the hearts of the people. I feel like we are in a new atmosphere religiously.

Ed. Ala. Baptist: I enclose report of my work as evangelist of Conecuh association for the months of February, March and April. lost about four days during the extreme cold weather in February when the ground was frozen and it was dangerous to travel.

My field embraces most of the counties of Butler, Conecuh and Escambia-75 miles long, and 35 to 40 wide, along the L. and N. railroad from Greenville to Flomaton. I find much destitution-seven or eight churches pastorless, and sev eral preachers without churches. In every church and community where I have visited and preached earnest requests were made for me to come again. Nearly all are anxious for service. The children and young people are hungry for Sunday school and preaching. "The field is white unto the harvest." More study of God's word is needed. A pastor cannot do the work needed by going to the church once a month, preach and return home. He should, so far as he can, work up his field, visiting from house to house, reading, praying and talking for the Master. Prayer and work, and keeping continually at it, is a good motto for the preachlation of printed matter concerning these objects. Sixth-That a committee of one from each state be appointed to cooperate with the corresponding secretaries of the three boards, and the statistical secretary of the convention, to take charge of this work. Seventh-That each state convention be requested to appoint a committee of five to co-operate with the above committee, and that such state conventions appoint' a committee of five in each association. who shall arrange for a committee of three in each church for such cooperation.

This report bears the following distinguished names : F. H. Kerfoot, J. M. Frost, R. J. Willingham, L. O Dawson, E. E. Folk, O. F. Gregory, I. T. Tichenor, C. H. Winston, H. F. Sproles, and R. M. Boone.

The report was first slightly amended, and, before taking the vote, the president asked Dr. Landrum, of Georgia, in view of the extreme importance of the matter, to ask for the divine blessing. Dr. Landrum gave thanks for the growth of the Baptists during the century. for the heroism of the fathers while securing civil and religious liberty and for the faith which they had maintained, "with no additions to it, no abstractions from it, and no alterations of it." The resolutions received a unanimous vote.

For the Alabama Baptist. From the Matron of the Orphanage.

Dear Alabama Baptist: I have been Matron of the Baptist Orphanage for nearly five months, and want to tell its friends something about our children, our needs, etc. On the afternoon of January 6th entered its walls for the first time, and language cannot express my feelings when I was met by seventy bright faces all eager to catch a glimpse of the "new woman," as they called me. All then was joy and gladness, but in only a few hours it was a house of mourning, for "Aunt Clars" was bidding them adieu. "Ob, these parting scenes will never end," and it is hard to see the young thus grieve, yet I was glad to know that they had such tender, loving hearts, knowing it is out of such hearts that we find our Christian men and women.

My deepest and most lasting impression was of our leader, Mr. Stewart. His consecrated life is devoted almost entirely to the welfare of these poor, unfortunate children, ever striving to make an ideal Home in which to train up children in the way they should go. I have never seen such untiring energy in my life, and realize more and more our dependence on him. We could not get along without him at the helm. Praise God for such men.

My next impression was of the great needs of the Home, believing that if our people knew them as I did, they surely would come to Mr. Stewart's relief. The greatest need at the time of my arrival was chairs and lights. They have been supplied, and I am sure that the others will be as soon as we get it before the people. If you could have seen work of the ministry, and Breth- own, you too would want to scatter

For the Alab na Baptist "Feet Washing" and the Suppers.

Why Bible students should not understand the Scriptures on above subjects alike is strange to me.

When and where the "feet washing?" If I understand Bro. Preston in the ALABAMA BAPTIST May God present these modern apostles and their new gospel in all their shallowness, and faith in them will die. Besides, a firm grasp of the main principles of exact science will aid the preacher greatly in his interpretation of the Scriptures, so far as their teachings are related to science. But, after all, the preacher's greatest need is a knowledge of the Bible. He must master the Bible as the Book of God, having essential unity of theme, of aim, of trend, and of plan. The preacher should be master of the books of the Bible as they appear in their completeness on the sacred pages. He should master its every book until each is understood in itself and in its relation to the whole Bible. He should study it throughout grammatically, logically, prayerfully by the help of the Holy Spirit, until it becomes a living book, quick and powerful in all its range of revealed truth and fact. Then our preachers should know more of God's Word as a theological system. The Bible teaching should be grasped by the preacher in a living system of theology which in its naturalness and completeness shall confound the skeptic and scoffer.

We are frequently advised not to preach theology, and especially not to preach on the sovereignty of God. No man ever had a firmer grasp, or preached more frequently upon the great doctrine of God's sovereignty than Mr. Spurgeon, yet the Lord greatly honored him. One of the reasons for the cry of the age against theology is that the preachers and the people have had so little living theology from the Bible.

That join a man's ideas, when he thinks," asks the farm-poet. Yet whether we can trace them or not, the untraceable, the casual thoughts are often of more value than we suppose.

These facts suggest the value of laying hold of the happy thoughts of the moment, and the suggestions that come unbidden; and which are soon gone unless held, and used. Who can say these are not the voice of God to us? Have you never had a new thought or a noble prompting come when you were not seeking it-as if it were indeed born from above Do we not sometimes catch suddenly a reflection from heaven One of the poets beautifully describes the image of the stars upon the ripples of the sea, as if each wave

Poor fellow! The pastor who could please some churches has never been born-and it is hoped he never will be. Then again there are churches where a stranger has good audiences while the pastor has small ones. The voice of a stranger will they heed, but the voice of the shepherd they will not hear. This is mortifying to the flesh, and pastors are just flesh, not immeasurably better than their flocks. Luke 22 :7-23 we find the feast of the passover was eaten, and that the Lord at the close of the passover feast instituted his supper.

Now we have found three different feasts: The first before the feast of the passover, and the one after which the feet washing took place. A. J. PRESTON. The Power of a Passing Thought.

Fraternally,

BY PROF. EDWARD B. POLLARD.

The power of an idea has frequently been written upon. Ideas rule the world, in a sense very real and very sublime. Whether any one has written upon the power of a chance idea, I do not know. Of course, there is, strictly speaking, no such thing, either psychologically or theologically, as a chance idea. Thoughts do not just happen. The psychologists tell us that the laws of "the association of ideas" are ever active, and the theologian knows that God's Spirit is author and inspirer of all good and lofty thoughts. Nothing happens by chance.

And yet, there come to us all, at supper. We must remember that times, thoughts uninvited, casually, the writers are making fragmentary unaccountably. The old Greeks statements, so if we get fragments had a work (tunchano) which is mixed we confound them, and this generally rendered "happen," but mixing of fragments is the cause of which means to "hit the mark." the conflicting views on these sub-So there are thoughts that come to jects. us as if by chance, which are very timely and may accomplish great things for us, if followed up, and For the Alabama Baptist. followed out. that we are all brethren, to whom is committed the great work of giving the pure gospel to all the world. Let no one be censured or punished for any part he may have taken in the unfortunate controversy. Let each for himself draw the lessons he needs to learn from his experience, and let us all go forward wiser and better because of the ordeal through which we have passed .- Western Recorder.

This note is from the Recorder also:

Dr. A. B. Miller, of Little Rock, Ark., writes his regrets at being unable to attend the convention. He expected to come, but the condition of his new and rapidly growing work demanded his presence at home. He is delighted at the selection of Dr. Greene as the president of the Seminary, and he believes the brethren generally in Arkansas are pleased. We have not so far heard a dissenting voice in regard to the election of Dr. Greene.

For my part, I here and now withdraw every unkind word I ever said in connection with this matter, and ask the forgiveness of the brethren for any wounds that may have been inflicted by the words that have been printed here. Not this only, but I just as cheerfully forgive all of them. I even forgive Pitt, of the Religious Herald, who I think, in some respects has said the unkindest things of all. Fooling With the Conscience.

BY ALEXANDER M'CLAREN.

Sin does not usually march up to the fortress that it would capture with flags flying and drums beating, but it burrows underground and comes up in the citadel before the garrison knows that it is near. Most of us, when we do go wrong, do it ignoring altogether the right or wrong of the thing we are going to do, and sometimes we go so far that we persuade ourselves that there is no reason why we should not do this. Ah, yes! "the arrow that flieth in darkness" is the arrow to be afraid of. "The pestilence that walketh in darkness" is the pestilence that slays its tens of thousands. The first lie that sim tells me is, "Come along, there is not a bit of harm in it. You may do it quite safely. I will not say it is right, but certainly it is not wrong. Come !"

You can do almost anything you like with your consciences in the way of getting them to condone or to sanction evil except this one thing which nobody can do-you can never get conscience to say, "It is right to do wrong." But you can get it to say that almost anything in the whole possible circle of vices and sins is right if you go the right way to work about it, Conscience can be seared, as a man's skin will be no longer sensitive after once a hot iron has been pressed against it. You can silence it, and bring it down to the level of your ordinary life by habitual indulgence in certain forms of evil, as the "dyenterhand, is subdued to what it meetings seem to be somewhat tiful life.

Alum baking powders have always been favorite articles for this sampling business. Yet there is nothing more liable to lead to danger than the practice of using the various samples of baking powder left at the door. They are presented by irresponsible parties, in appearance are not distinguishable from arsenic, and indeed, in Indiana some time since one package was found, after it had caused the death of the housewife, to' have been mixed with that poison.

It is safer to refuse all samples of food or medicine offered at the door. Pure cream of tartar baking powders sell upon their merits, and self. are never peddled or sampled.

And do not rely on your inclinations to decide what is right, because they are, in nine cases out of ten, bribed beforehand by the enemy.

It is all but impossible for a man so to get away from himself as to look at himself, and see himself as he is, and so you know we have got two words for almost every kind of moral action, and we use one of them for other people when they do it, and one of them for ourselves when we do it. "That man is a miser ;'* "I am prudently careful." That one is "mean and shifty and cunning :" "I am sagacious, and adapt means to ends, and do not wear my heart on my sleeve." This man is "passionate;" I am "righteously indignant." That other man "indulges in the appetites of the flesh ;" I simply "do not go over to the extreme of asceticism."

"What in the captain [that is, in me] is but a choleric word, in the soldier [that is, everybody else] is flat blasphemy." And so the hardest of all things is to get people to know themselves. The Assyrians had a notion which is embodied in Circumstances and the get him to educate it. Do not rely characters of the men engaged have much to do with the success has been taught by the example of and the harmony of such meetings. The writer of this can say but little as the result of experience. He does not remember ever having been engaged with those of other denominations in such special work. Judging from what he has seen and heard, he would be very slow to enter into an engagement of that kind. He would fear that social relations of the people of the different denominations would be greatly disturbed by them. It is almost impossible for pastors to agree upon a course of procedure under such circumstances, and all stand to it firmly to the end. Human nature is very treacherous, and, while divine grace may have done much to subdue it in some souls, there is still enough of it left in most of us to bring us into disgrace before men and into humiliation before God, when we are brought face to face with a great temptation. Besides, we are not altogether sure that a Baptist can be true to himself, to his convictions and to his Master, while he agrees, either formally or tacitly, to withhold certain truths of the Word of God for the sake of union with those who re-

20,000,000 Acres of Public Free School Land in the Market.

NOW OR NEVER. NOW OR NEVER.

The Supreme Court of Texas recently decided that all the vacant land in the State belongs to the Public Free School Fund, and school lands under the law can be bought for $1.00 to $1.50 per acre, according to the character of the land.

These lands will produce corn, cotton, wheat, oats, rye and barley, and all the forage plants, as well as fruits and ber-ries of every kind. The prairie lands are already covered with nutritious native grasses and forage plants, which support cattle and horses, sheep and hogs, both summer and winter, without other feed, and stock of all kinds do well on the open range all the year round, and many of the coast lands will produce both rice and sugar.

One person under the present law can buy only four (4) sections of this land of 640 acres each, and most of it can be had at $1.00 per acre, 1-40 cash and the balance on 40 years' time, at 3 per cent. per annum, and the balance at $1.50 per acre on the same terms. Nowhere else in the entire world can land be had at such a figure, and on such terms. If you want a home in a delightful climate, where you can raise the greatest diversity of agricultural products and can engage in stock-raising with the greatest profit, then send $1.00 to the undersigned for a book giving the full text of the present State laws in regard to the purchase of these lands, rate of taxation, amount of Free School Fund and Public School facilities, with a list of all the counties in the State in which any of this land is located; also full instructions how to proceed to purchase such lands, and the le-gal formalities necessary to acquire ab-solutely perfect titles direct from the

Then set you plants in rows three feet apart, an two feet apart in the rows, runnin north and south, if possible, in or der to secure better advantage of the sunshine. Cultivate by plow ing and hoeing. When the plant begin to bloom, top the stem jus above the first cluster of flowers, s that the flowers terminate the stem The effect is that the sap is imme diately sent into the buds next be low the cluster, which soon pus strongly and produce another clu ter of flowers each. When thes are visible, the branch to whic they belong is also topped dow to their level. This is don five times in succession. B this means the plants become stou dwarf bushes, not over eightee inches high. In addition to thi all the laterals are nipped of Treated in this way, the fruit a quires a beauty, size excellence un attainable by any other mean Further, if the leaves and trin mings of the tomatoes be mad into a strong tea and sprinkled o cabbage, it will keep off those tro blesome green worms -Epitomis

Coffee.

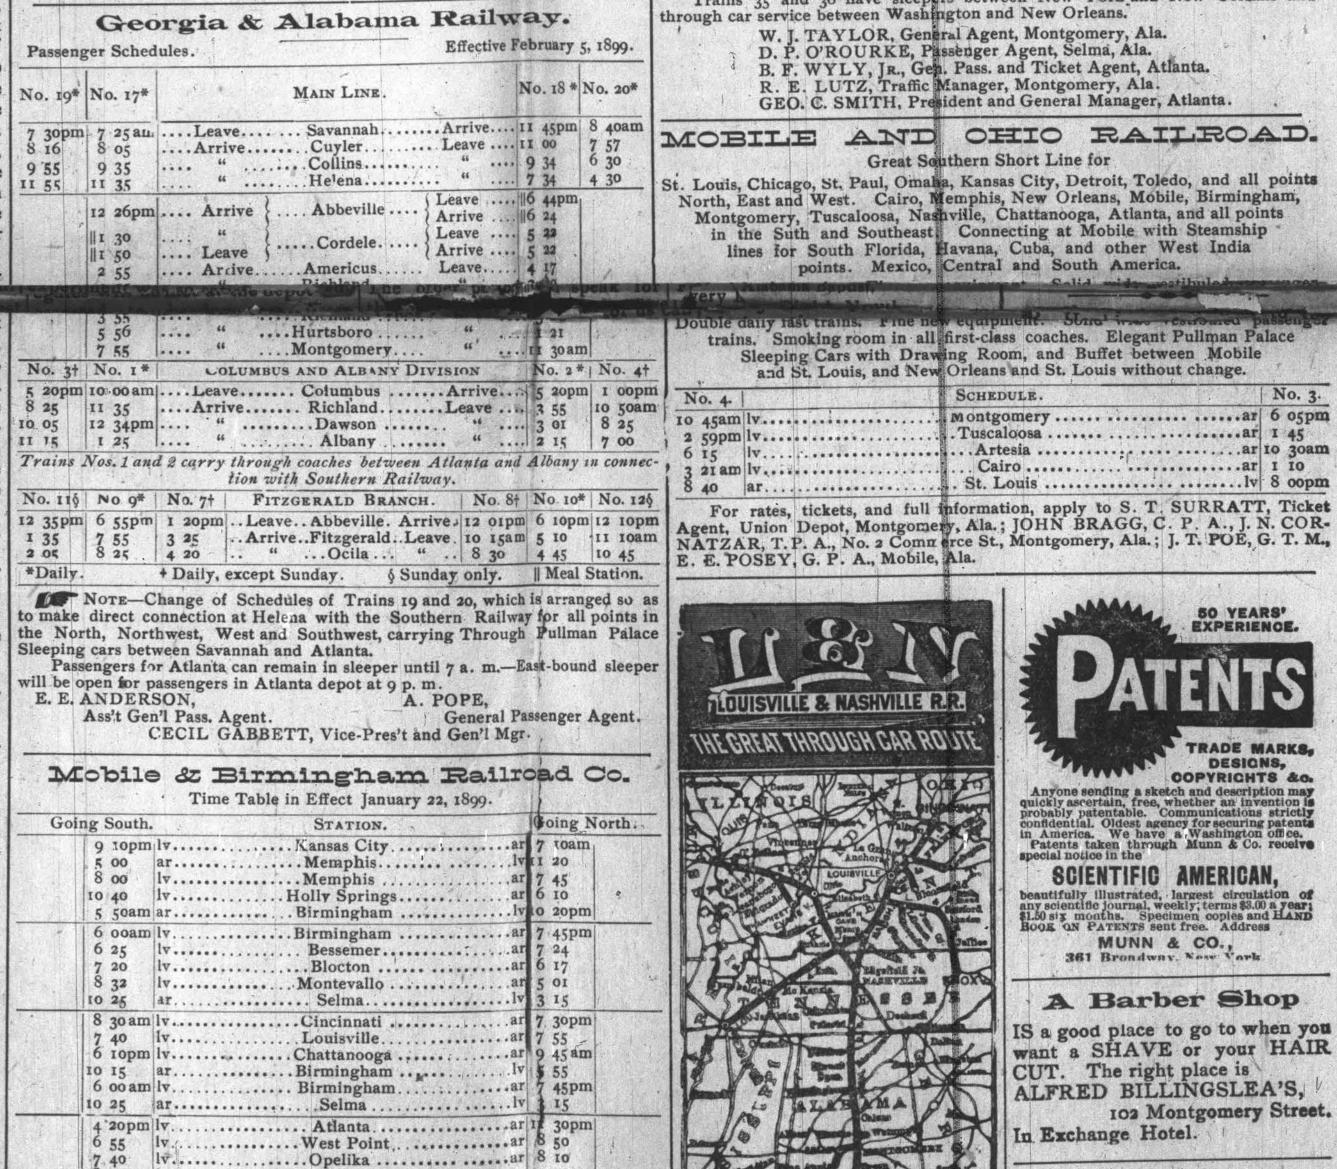

The Boston Cooking School method of making coffee is as fo lows: An agateware coffee-po never tin, is best for making coffe one with the spout near the top the pot being the most convenien so that the coffee grounds will no boil up into the spout and clog Scald the coffee potibefore usin having the inside as thorough clean as the outside, as any sec ment will ruin the flavor of t beverage. For six or seven cups coffee, add one egg, slightly beate to one cup of ground coffee, a mix with half a cup of cold water. Put into the coffee pot with six cups of freshly boiling water, stuff the spout with soft paper to keep in the aroma, and boil for three minutes, taking the time from the moment it actually begins to boil. Then add half a cup of cold water, stir, and set on the back of the stove for about ten minutes, when it will be ready for serving. Serve with scalded, not boiled, milk or cream white of the egg alone may

For the Alabama Baptist. At Danville.

Permit me to give a brief account of the commencement exercises of the North Alabama Baptist Collegiate Institute and Normal School at Danville.

Owing to the destruction of our school building by fire last Christmas day, our exercises were necessarily brief, as our school was small and room accommodations scarce. The school had been taught in the Baptist church since the 1st of January last.

Bro. Mack Stamps, of Sheffield, preached the commencement sermon at II a. m. Sunday, the 21st. He also preached at night. Both sermons were good, and our people were pleased with them, and I hope benefited. On Monday night we had an educational meeting in the interest of the school, but I am sorry to say very little was accomplished in our efforts to prevail upon the citizens of Danville and vicinity to aid in rebuilding our school house. On Tuesday the annual meeting of the board of trustees came off. The board appointed a committee to receive bids for the location of the school, and to remove the school if thought best. This committee consists of the following persons: A. L. Moody, of Tuscumbia; A. W. Bailey, of Hillsboro; Perry Henderson, of Athens; Dr. J. M. Kichens, of Hartselle; F. H. Orr, J. G. Orr and Jos. Shackelford, of Danville. This action was taken in order to give Danville or any other place that might want the school an opportunity to get up some interest among its people in the matter, and make an effort to get it. The trustees will locate the school where they think will he the best and most eligible place, and where the people will show the most interest in having it by liberal donations. Two places are making an effort to get it-Sheffield and Trinity. Either place will do. But we must have Atara from the local and are at their posts holding up the blood-stained banner to a sin cursed world. These brethren don't make much ado about their work, but they are doing grand work for the Master.

Of course we have good reports from Bro. B. H. Crumpton. He has a noble people. May he continue long with them.

I can't close this without saying something of one of the most cherished objects of my life, that of a Ministers' Benefit Association. When the news came of Bro. Benton's death I thought, how glad I would be if we were organized and ready to give his family $1,000, or more. Bro. W. B. Crumpton has signified his hearty approval of the association, and I hope as soon as the debt is paid we will see that the matter is put on foot.

The Lord bless the ALABAMA BAPTIST and everybody else, for it seems that the people here are very much dispirited.

Faith and Poultices,

There is a great deal said and written now-a-days about the "faith cure." A great many people believe in it and there are more who do not. We do, with certain attachments. There are always two ways of looking at anything, and this question is no exception. There was old Hezekiah, king of Israel, who was "sick unto death," the Bible tersely informs us. No doubt it was his own fault to a great extent. Being a king it is altogether likely that he went all the paces and laid up for himself the retribution which generally overtakes high livers. What was the exact nature of his ailment we are not informed, but he had a boil, at all events. That's what it was called then, but we've a notion that suitable building given us. Whether we can secure this at either of the places is yet to be seen. We have offered us near Trinity, on the mountain, a house with three acres of ground. The house was once a school building, but is somewhat out of repair. At Sheffield it is probable that a good substantial school building can be secured. The matter will be decided one way or the other in about two weeks.

On Tuesday night the pupils of the school gave an entertainment and all acquitted themselves well and gave general satisfaction. We had no graduates at this commencement. We hope the school will be opened again next September. As soon as the matter of the location of the school is settled, the trustees will elect the teachers.

it was a carouncie. Some of our with the poking sluggish habit of readers know that a robust carbuncle will not only make a man "sick unto death," but will cause him to wonder many times why he doesn't die and get out of it. They are worrying attachments, carbuncles are. We've known men to nurse several of them and still live, but it was a close shave.

But about Hezekiah. While he was enjoying his carbuncle and wondering where he caught it the prophet Isaiah made him a visit and very bluntly told him he was going to die. Doubtless Hez had been the other day when my eyes fell expecting just such a catastrophe, upon this caption, "Pigs in the but when assured of it he wasn't Church." Of course I read it, just ready. You and I know that when this earthly tabernacle is dissolved there will be a new body for us, because our Lord Jesus Christ has risen from the dead.
