The Judson in 1889 and 1899.

In the fall of 1889 the State Convention met in Selma. The new Tudson had just been completed, and the Convention was invited to go in a body to visit the school and receive it formally from the building committee and trustees. I had the good fortune to be present. It was a glad day for all. There were congratulations and hand-shakings and speeches galore. Dr. Frost made a great hit by telling a horse story worthy of David Harum and raised a large sum in cash and pledges. Dr. Averette, of blessed memory, assisted by his faculty and the girls in green, showed the visitors through the building, conducting us up the broad stairway, and beginning with the beautifully lighted art room in the upper floor, we passed through long halls, cozy bedrooms, luxurious bath-rooms and the matron's quarters, down to the well heated and ventillated recitation rooms, music halls and labora- history and work of many schools tories, until, delighted and out of breath, we were ushered into the spacious basement dining hall. There we were received and feasted by the Judson Alumnæ. We went home literally and figuratively too full for utterance, feeling that in the new building, "from turret to foundation stone," everything was appropriate and complete.

In May, 1899, I again visited the Judson. Ten years had gone by and there were many changes. Dr. Averette had passed to his reward, preaching in Chicago. There, as

As I paused a moment on the church steps at the last Commencement on Sunday I looked back and saw the long column of white-robed maidens moving to the house of worship. I recalled the words spoken in honest pride more than a year before, and another thought came to me, a thought of another gathering arrayed in white which no man can number. My prayer is that each heart present that day, may also be among that "blood washed throng." Still another thought comes to me. It is by no accident, but a happy foresight that the builders of the Judson placed it face to face with old "Siloam," whose heaven-pointing spire rising high above house and tree-top, tipped with sunrise gold, or bathed in sunset splendor, stands an everpresent and beautiful object lesson for the young.

In conclusion, let me say to the Baptists and friends of education everywhere: If you wish your daughters to have real culture of body, head and heart, send them to the Judson. I have known the intimately and accurately, and I say without hesitation that I have known but few schools to compare with the Judson, and not one to surpass it. JNO. F. PURSER.

Trip Notes. EPES

Is the unpretentious name of a little town on the A. G. S. railroad high up on the lime rock bluffs of the Bigbee river. For years the Baptists have had an organization here, but they worshiped in a union house and there was no growth.

Something more than a year ago they determined to build, and I was called there on a recent Sunday to assist in the dedication of the new building. The little church of twelve members have done nobly. and have, as a reward for their labors, one of the neatest and best ar ranged little meeting houses I have seen. It was a great day with them, but failing to secure a sufficient amount to clear the building of debt, the dedication had to be postponed. For five years Bro. Apsey has preached here under tmost discouraging circumstances; but with a united and enthusiastic church, though they may be few in numbers and financially weak, the difficulties will disappear. The visiting brethren were treated royally. Epes is going to be a considerable town, if its citizens show the enterprise they should. It is the natural railroad center for one of the richest sections of the state. They have now an overflowing well of healthgiving water, which is said to be equal to the most noted. This, with good hotels, schools and churches, will attract public attention and make the place of some importance in the near future.

TUSCUMBIA

Is a long jump from Epes; I was there the next Sunday to preach the sermon at the dedication of their house of worship. It was built several years ago, but the debt was not paid until lately. It was easy to preach to the great audience assembled, and they cheerfully contributed sufficient to pay for the handsome pews which will soon be in place. If the Tuscumbia saints will adopt a systematic financial plan and all pull together, there is no reason why they might not grow into a great church. Here, as almost everywhere, they have been running their finances without system; but they promise better in the future. They are very fond of Bro. Hendon, their young pastor, and he is enthusiastic in his work learned that the church in the old town is pastorless. Decatur is improving and is destined to be a city of considerable importance. Here, as in every town in North Alabama, the Baptists are weak; an the country they are strong, but they have pursued the suicidal policy of letting the towns alone. The result is, the Methodists are practically in possession of the towns and cities.

In company with Bro. John T. Bealle, editor of the West Alabama Breeze of Northport, and Bro. Stewart of the Orphanage, I went to the CENTRAL FEMALE COLLEGE.

Col. Murfee, president, has done much for the education of the young women of this section. Many years ago the old state capitol was leased to the Baptists for ninety-nine years on certain conditions, for a female college. Thousands of dollars have been expended on additions and improvements until it has ample room for all who may ever attend it. The president is in the field and is hopeful of a good opening this fall. Pastor Dawson, president of the trustees, hopes with the revival of business in Tuscaloosa and this section by the coming of new railroads, to see interest in the college revive and means secured to put it in thorough repair.

Mormonism.

We publish from the Index something on Mormonism, which ought to be studied, particularly by our preachers. The preachers must meet the Mormon elders, scores of whom are in the South.

These people are not another denomination of Christians seeking to | tic. lead Baptists away from the faith of their fathers. Theirs is a false religion. It not only makes war on Christ's religion, but on the homes of our people. We have been warned of such: "Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof; from such turn away. For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts."

We published recently a contest between one of them and Secretary Holt, of Tennessee. If one thinks they are not bold and here for business, he had as well disabuse his mind-they are bent on mischief. Every church established here will become a feeder to keep up the concubinage practiced in Utah. Eyery citizen, whether in or out of the church, ought to be interested in seeing these wretched people defeated in their purpose. We are opposed to mob law-everything like violence will only make friends for them; but we can refuse entertainment to them in their travels; we can refuse to hear them; we can refuse the gift of their literature; we can expose their pernicious teaching.

The women should understand that the triumph of Mormonism means the relegation of woman to her position in the East as slave and concubine. Let the women of North Carolina give no shelter or ear to the wandering Mormon preachers .- North Carolina Bap-

We have already expressed our disapproval of mob violence against the Mormon preschers. We cannot see how Baptists can fail to realize that freedom means freedom. Aside from all this, there can be no better way to gain sympathy for these Mormons than a few persecutions. The spirit of our people the cause of the persecuted. But while we do not believe, therefore, stern and uncompromising resistance to Mormonism, that shall repudiate it as a form of Christianity fit to be tolerated under the same name by evangelical Christians. tain toleration and mutual cooperation. Mormonism is so radi-

As an evidence of this we present herewith ten reasons why Christians cannot fellowship the Mormon church. These are sent out by the Presbytery of Utah (Presbysociations of the State of Utah. ported by ample proofs cited from Mormon writings, are as follows:

First-The Mormon church unchurches all Christians. It recognizes itself alone as the church. From its beginning to the present it has insisted, from press and platform, that all Christian churches, of whatever name, nation, or century, since apostolic times, are not only apostate from the truth, but propagators of error and false doctrine, without authority to teach, preach, or administer the sacraments; that salvation and exaltation are found alone in the church organized by Joseph Smith.

Second-The Mormon church places the 'Hook of Mormon,' and the 'Book of Doctrine and Covenants' on a par with the Bible, and requires subscription to the inspiration and a thority of those books as a condition of acceptance with God and fellowship with his people. Their so-called revelations of the present are of ut on the same fellowship between those who thus teach and ourselves. In adding to the Holy Scriptures so puerile and silly a set of books as the books of Mormon, they are guilty of blasphemy, while their whole concepevery believer in spiritual religion must reject as dishonoring and degrading. By exalting lust in God and Christ, they have found the posed of two natural ingredients, basis for justifying lust in man. natural dishonesty and artificial dis-Mormonism is a man's religion, simulation.—Sir T. Overbury. and for man exalts passion into a godly virtue. Polygamy cannot die in Mormonism, except as its whole theology is changed, save as some expedient is discovered to grant to men full liberty in sexual indulgence under some other sanction. The theology of Mormonism is a lustful one, for its very God is a God of lust.

There must be no sentimental temporizing with Mormonism. It must be denounced as beyond for lowship by Christians. Our homes must be shut to the Mormon preachers, we must close our churches against them, and not even by furnishing to them a meal must we countenance their work. If they preach they must be denounced, and, if necessary, confronted with their real creed, for they preach a veiled doctrine. Especially, with all plainness of speech ought the essential lustfulness of Mormonism be made plain, and the women, at least, made to see that for them Mormonism means but submission to the passions of men. It is among the women that they make their first converts. Without violence, these Mormon elders ought to be treated as we would treat the preachers of Mohammedanism or heathenism. The times are ripe for a still further agitation to strike Mormonism in high places. The case of Roberts, the Congressman elect, will come up for decision at the opening of the next Congress in December. Roberts is a polygamist, confessed and defiant, and, as such, is a violator of the law of the land, and of the contract between Utah and this government. To seat him will mean much of prestige to Mormonism. There must not be a Congressman from Georgia who fails actively to work to unseat him. This is a tangible way to get at Mormonism, and there must be no uncertain sound among the people of Georgia, and this sound must reach the ears of the Congressmen who represent us .- The Index, Atlanta.

"The conscience is the mind looking to a moral law, and pronouncing judgments giving rise to emotions.

"Conscience points us to the attributes of Deity, and to a moral law behind it, and it gives us certain impressions of justice, veracity, compassion and moral purity in regard to our own conduct, and a distinct approbation of these qualities in others."

"Conscience discerns moral qualities, as the eye perceives objects presented to it. It is not a complex faculty, but one and simple, and it is infixed in the constitution of the human mind. It is sur generis, and different from all other faculties, in that, that it alone declares 'what ought and what ought not to be.' "

All men possess conscience, just as all men possess reason. But with many, both may be very limited.

Conscience is not an infallible guide. It is too general to afford full direction in conduct, and too weak to withstand the opposition of contrary principles. It is perverted by ignorance and superstition, and is overcome by passions and desires. It is a consonance of revelation, and revelation gives it strength and light, and it incorporates with that "true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world." The clock is right when it keeps time with the sun, and conscience is only a safe guide when it is directed by the commandment of the Lord.

In many, conscience is lopsided, sensitive to absurdity on one side, and torpid to deadness on the other. When David cut off the skirt of Saul's robe he said his "heart smote him for what he had done." When he committed the double sin in the Uriah matter, nearly a year passed, and he never said his "heart smote him," until Nathan came and reproved him. The Pharisees could not enter Pilate's hall lest they be defiled, yet a few hours afterward has been so long hanging over it. they could murder the Lord of glory. Thus, men strain out a gnat and swallow a camel;

Sanford administered the ordinance of baptism to four young men and four young ladies-all but one being pupils in the Sunday school. The meeting closed with the morning service, and as we sang, the hand of fellowship was given the new members. Then we sang again and gave the parting hand to the preachers. The church and the preachers were greatly revived. At the last two services a greater number of young men made request for prayer than I ever before saw in a congregation that was no larger.

This body met with the Second Baptist clurch, Aug. 15. Delegates were present from fourteen churches out of seventeen, with an application from the church at Brown's Station for membership. The officers were unanimously reelected, not only on account of fitness each for his place, but for energetic and untiring efforts during the entire year to push forward the work. The visiting preachers were brethren W. B. Crumpton, John W. Stewart, Anderson, Hornady, George, Parker, Patrick, Roof, Moseley and Howard. All of whom rendered valuable aid. Careful forethought had prearranged everything. Each chairman of committee had been notified, and with a competent brother to open each discussion, everything moved on nicely. Each report was of a very high order, and the discussions replete with thought. Every one had many good things to say, but especially were the speeches of brethren Crumpton on Missions, Savell on Temperance, and Roof on Education impressive, and as each lingers with the writer yet, he feels sure they will bring forth an abundant harvest of good.

For many years the letters have been passed on by a committee. Bro. Dickinson urged the reading at this session. We liked it, and hereafter they will be read. A new feature was the Woman's meeting. #### PASTORAL VISITING.

Much has been said and written. and much more will be said and written, before the duties of pastors as to visiting their members will be definitely settled. In fact, it will always be a vexed and perplexing question. It has been a source of much trouble, and in many instances has been the entering wedge to the separation of pastor and people.

We almost hesitate to speak on this matter, fearing we may make things worse, and yet we are impelled by a sense of duty to offer some suggestions that seem to us reasonable and timely. We are almost sure we will not agree with everybody, nor will everybody agree with us in our conclusions.

There are three classes of people in every charge whom the pastor should visit and give special atten-

First. He should always be as attentive to the sick as possible. He should let nothing hinder him from visiting this class. No argument is needed to sustain this position. The mere statement is a complete answer.

Second. He should by no means neglect the poor. This class is always sensitive and observant, and needs encouragement and all the aid, social and substantial, they can get. They need advice and encour- there is no note or word indicating agement, and no one can be of greater service to this class than the pastor. It is often the case that the loving pastor is made to weep over the sad and helpless condition of the poor, and he would perhaps wish his visits could be dispensed with, yet it is a sacred duty, and he must discharge it.

The third class is the backslider and the sinner. To these he is specially sent, and hence by no means should they be neglected. He should be tactful and resourceful in his visitations to such, for the greatest responsibility resting upon a preacher is the winning of souls to Christ. When he has discharged his duty to these three classes, then, if he has any spare mime, he can visit others.

Some people are unreasonable and exacting in their claims upon their pastors. They become offended and sulk, and even pout, if the preacher should not visit them more often than he does others. They keep up a strict watch to see if the pastor is not more attentive to Bro. A. or B. or C. than to himself. The fact is, church members are perhaps more jealous and envious, when it comes to their pastor, than any other class of people on earth. When they should be concerned about their soul's salvation and the salvation of the lost, they are sulking in their tents from some imaginary slight at the hands of the pastor. We agree that the pastor should visit his members, to encourage and strengthen in Christian work, but we do not agree that the minister should spend his time in social visiting. He must study. TEACHERS in public schools are being examined under the new school law for license. During the month of June 2,365 were examined; out of that number 450 whites failed, and 458 colored, making 381 per cent. of the whole number. While the examination may be too rigid in some branches, and hence work a hardship upon some old and faithful teachers, nevertheless it is a good law, a move in the right direction. The state cannot afford to employ incompetent teachers to instruct her youth. She would be recreant to a sacred duty to entrust her children to the care of teachers deficient in education. If our public school system is to be brought up to the proper standard, our teaching force must be improved constantly.

Let the Place Remain Vacant.

Bro. Editor: I notice in the last issue of your paper that Rev. G. A. Hornady, Secretary of the Institute Board, had tendered his resignation, and the same had been accepted. This seems to have been the proper thing to do all round. In view of the fact that the denomination has just emerged from a burdensome debt, and the further object of desiring to see an economical management of its affairs, without weakening any of the efforts to exalt and extend the kingdom of Christ, or in any maner eopardize its interests, I trust the Executive Committe will consider well whether or not the Board needs a traveling Secretary at the salary they are paying. It is generally conceded that Anderson is the proper man for the place. No doubt he is better qualified than any one else for the work in which assisted me in protracted meetings, he is engaged. And as he is aland I therefore know that his work ready in the field, under a salary as I understand, why cannot he cover the whole ground for the state at large, just as Bro. Crumpton does for the State Mission Board? And more especially as there is a local Secretary of said Board at the home office. The institute work has pros-

My Dear Sunbeams: I have thought it would be a good plan for our column to contain a letter from one of our Sunbeams across the sea this month. I send it to you with letters from our missionaries, brethren Bryan and Pruitt, telling us about their little folks, and asking you to write to them. The letter from Canton was received by one of the dearest little Sunbeams of the Southside Baptist church of Birmingham, in answer to her letter to Willie Greene. She wrote to him as soon as Miss Heck made the request in the Foreign Mission Journal, and this is the letter she got from China. I wish very much the Alabama children would write to the children of our missionaries. How many do I hear saying, "I will," "I will?" hope I shall receive numbers of letters saying you have followed this suggestion. Be sure you put a fivecent stamp on your letters to China and Japan, or the little children will have to pay for the pleasure of hearing from you. I have written Miss Armstrong and Dr. Frost that the Alabama Sunbeams would use the programs gotten out by the Sunday School Board for Missionary Day in September, instead of our own programs. You see we like to do everything asked of us by our superiors. Is not that so We are Baptists that abide by our boards, aren't we? Lovingly, MRS. HAMILTON.

There is a little boy named John, son of Mrs. Graves cook, that comes out and plays every day. His little brother, Peter, is very cute. He can't yet walk but his mother brings him out tied on her back for an airing each day. I love babies very much. My little sister Katharine went home to live with Jesus last August, but I love her very much still, and want to be a good boy and go to see her when Jesus is ready for me. Not many of the little Chinese children know about Jesus yet. There are so many little children and not many to tell them of Jesus and his love.

I hope God will let me work for him here in China when I am a man, and I shall not wait to be man before I begin, for little children can work for Jesus too. I fear, however, that the return must be somewhat lacking since our children are young and have not been away to school. They, however, write some every day and will do the best they can.

Our oldest is Ida, aged 10. If she only had a company of girls around her for a while she would tell them a lot about China. She takes that gift from her mother. The reason I say this is that I accidentally overheard some people in Georgia discussing Mrs. Pruitt and myself and saying she was the better talker.

John Seward, aged 8, is a good companion to his sister, and fonder of donkeys than I ever dreamed a boy could be. If any little boys in the home land receive letters from him they may look out to be told about donkeys and mules.

Then there's the baby, darling little Robert Earley, who has no use whatever for a letter except to tear up. He is just beginning to hitch himself across the room, and yet this summary would not be complete without him, indeed my first thought was to begin with him, so completely does he dominate all about him. On the first Sabbath in July the meeting at Shiloh church began. We had some needless hindrances from start to finish. The attendance was good and encouraging every service. The preaching was superb. Bro. P. L. Moseley, of Enterprise, preached twice a day with characteristic faithfulness and eloquence.

On the 2d Sunday the meeting at Orion began. The pastor was without pulpit help. Bro. Yarbrough, ex-pastor. who lives there,

Our assertion that Pure White Lead made by the "old Dutch process" of slow corrosion is far superior to White Lead made by patent or quick processes, has been demonstrated by the experience of competent, practical painters everywhere. Comparative: tests made by employees or parties interested do not prove anything.

20,000,000 Acres of Public Free School Land in the Market.

NOW OR NEVER. NOW OR NEVER.

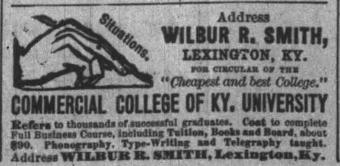

The Supreme Court of Texas recently decided that all the vacant land in the State belongs to the Public Free School Fund, and school lands under the law can be bought for $1.00 to $1.50 per acre, according to the character of the land. These lands will produce corn, cotton, wheat, oats, rye and barley, and all the forage plants, as well as fruits and berries of every kind. The prairie lands are already covered with nutritious native grasses and forage plants, which support cattle and horses, sheep and hogs, both summer and winter, without other feed, and stock of all kinds do well on the open range all the year round, and many of the coast lands will produce both rice and

One person under the present law can buy only four (4) sections of this land of 640 acres each, and most of it can be had at $1.00 per acre, 1-40 cash and the balance on 40 years' time, at 3 per cent. per annum, and the balance at $1.50 per acre on the same terms. Nowhere else in the entire world can land be had at such a figure, and on such terms. If you want a home in a delightful climate, where you can raise the greatest diversity of agricultural products and can engage in stock-raising with the greatest profit, then send $1.00 to the undersigned for a book giving the full text of the present State laws in regard to the purchase of these lands, rate of taxation, amount of Free School Fund and Public School fa-cilities, with a list of all the counties in the State in which any of this land is located; also full instructions how to proceed to purchase such lands, and the legal formalities necessary to acquire absolutely perfect titles direct from the

Your $1.00 will procure you information and give you instructions which will be worth $1,000 to you, if you want a home.

The undersigned will, for a fee of $5.00 per section, advise you where the best lands can now be had, and will prepare all the necessary legal papers, and attend to the securing of title here through the proper department of the Govern-

I take pleasure in reporting the good meetings we are having down here. The Lord is wonderfully blessing us. I closed my last meeting Thursday night last. Seven were added to the church. Bro. B. J. Skinner did the preaching in his inimitable style-plain yet forcible. I have never seen a church derive more benefit from the preaching than this one. This closes my work, and the church closed its by paying me more than it had promised. I go to help Bro. Skinner next week at Burnt Corn.

LITERARY NOTICES.

"New York Under Tammany Rule" is the title of an informing article which Frank Moss, Counsel for the Mazet Investigating Committee, has written for The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia. After summarizing the notorious methods of Tammany rule, whereby the leaders enrich themselves at the expense of the taxpayer, and run the city of New York as "wideopen" as any Western mining town, Mr. Moss accounts for the helplessness of the law-abiding majority and suggests a means for the overthrow of the Croker regime.

This article is one of a series dealing with the municipal affairs of great American cities. It will appear in the Saturday Evening Post of September 9.

The Beautiful Sapphire Country Reached via Southern Railway.

One of the most picturesque and delightful sections in North Caro- | WRENN, P. T. M., Savannah, Ga. lina is what is known as the Sapphire Country. This section is located near Brevard, N. C., at an · average altitude of 3,000 feet, and abounds in many beautiful streams and grand waterfalls.

Of the many attractive features, perhaps one of the most interesting and picturesque points are Fairfield and Sapphire Lakes. No where else in the South at this altitude are there such bodies of water. There are towering Cliffs, rising abruptly for a thousand feet

STORES NO. from the shores, and cascades of rare beauty falling directly into the lakes from the lofty table land surrounding.

On account of the elevation of this section it is very healthy, and particularly adapted to those troubled with Hay-fever, being also free from all malaria or other diseases. A record of the temperature kept at Sapphire for four years shows an average of 69 degrees for the entire summer.

Sapphire Inn, Fairfield Inn, and the Lodgo, afford excellent accommodations for guests.

For further information regarding the Sapphire Country, call on any agent of the Southern Railway, or write C. A. Benscoter, A. G. P. A., Chattanooga, Tenn., for descriptive pamphlet.

Asheville, N. C.

Few regions have been more richly endowed by nature than that famous section of Western North Carolina poetically termed the "Land of the Sky." It has a climate so dry and healthgiving that it has become known the world over as a natural sanitarium for the cure of all troubles of a pulmonary or bronchial nature.

Asheville, the centre of this beautiful mountain-hemmed plateau, is the highest city east of Denver, and is a busy, thriving place of 12,000 inhabitants, with all the modernisms of city life. The city line just at the point where the beautiful French Broad and Swannanoa Rivers join their crystal wa-

Within the city or in its suburbs many people of wealth have built beautiful and expensive homes, the most notable among them being the chateau of Mr. George W. Vanderbilt, which with its great estate has cost upwards of four million dollars. Asheville is an all the-year resort, for the great mountains protect it in the winter from the cold winds, and its summer climate is made delightful because of its altitude. For descriptive matter of Asheville and vicinity, call on any Southern Railway Agent, or write to Mr. C. A. Benscoter, A. G. P. A., Chattanooga, Tenn.

For the Alabama Baptist. Good and Profitable Services

At the Hartselle Baptist church on Sunday, Sept. 3. At the morning service Pastor Lowery was at his best and preached a fine sermon. At night Dr. J. M. Kitchens, Jos. Hargrove, Prof. Luther Gibson and Seldon Sherrill were set apart to the office and work of deacon. The presbytery consisted of J. G. Lowery, J. I. Stockton and F. C. David.

These newly ordained deacons are among the very best men of the church and of the town, and their splendid qualifications to that office bid fair to bring about a new era in the prosperity of the church. Already the church is advancing on all lines of church work. Bro. Lowery is a wise master builder, and as he shuns not to declare all the counsel of God, so he claims of his church members that they must not shun to do their whole duty on Lowery is happy in his efforts in leading his churches in Christian giving. The church here contributed to the paying of our denominational debt, and has nearly completed a new baptistry and dressing rooms attached to the church building; all this in addition to their regular contributions to all the enterprises fostered by the denomina-

Mrs. M. J. Benson was born in Camden county, Ga, in 1815, and died May 3, 1899 She came to Clarke county, Ala., in childhood. She married A. J. Benson, and was the mother of six children. She was a member of Salem Baptist church for sixty four years, and so devoted was she to her church, that while she lay suffering from a fall received two years before her death, she complained not at bodily pain, but her only grief was that of being unable to worship God with his people, and when not able to walk alone she was arried ten miles to her alone she was carried ten miles to her church, which she said was the prettiest place on earth. She is not dead, but HER PASTOR. sleepeth.

OBITUARY.

For the Alabama Baptist, My Summer Meetings.

I closed my summer meetings the latter part of August. The first was held in July with Olive Branch church, and resulted in eight additions by experience, a reviving of the church, and the conversion of others.

The second meeting was in July also, and with Town Creek church. I was assisted by brethren T. A. Kelley, Thomas Stanley and James Thomas. There was one accession two others have been added.

At Providence church, in August, I again had the assistance of Bro. Stanley. The church was revived, and we believe much good was done, the church being more fully united than it has been in a year past, and four were received by experience and two restored.

Hatchet Creek church was somewhat revived and two were received by experience.

I aided Bro Kelley at Concord church. The church was built up spiritually, but there were no accessions.

In the sixt h and last week of gage with power of sale, and under the this special work I assisted Bro. Thomas at Stardis church. Much good appeared to be accomplished; eleven were a dded by experience

Reading

and Sewing.

There would be fewer glasses worn upon the streets if people would use them for reading and sewing earlier. It is near work that wears out the eyes. The bookkeeper, the typewriter, the dressmaker, and the child in school, are all putting their eyes to the hardest strain. A great many have constant headache which they attribute to indigestion and nervousness, when the cause is simply overstrained eyes. If in reading the evening paper you have to place the light "just so;" if the letters all run together; if you have to close your eyes and rub them; it is Nature's protest against overwork. If threading your needle is more difficult than it used to be, it is the first warning of defective eyesight. The sooner you use glasses for near work the better. If you commence at once very likely you will only have to wear them in reading and sewing. If you go on straining your eyes, the chances are you will soon have to wear glasses constantly. "A stitch in time saves nine."
