

Good Meetings.

FIRST CHURCH, BIRMINGHAM.

The Lord has greatly blessed us at the old First. For two and a half weeks Bro. H. C. Risner, of Roanoke, preached with great fervor and power. The Holy Spirit was present in gracious manifestation. Many members declare it the best meeting in the history of the church. The preaching for a whole week was to the church and it was strong, scriptural and searching, provoking self-examination, followed by confession of sins. Then came a week of pungent preaching and powerful appeal to the lost. During the last week Bro. Risner was reinforced by Rev. F. O. Lamoreux, one of the finest gospel singers I have heard, pastor of the Baptist church at Columbus, Ind. They are true yoke-fellows, having been together in quite a number of meetings. They are both free from sensationalism and are men of deep piety, in song and sermon relying upon the Spirit of God. The earnest, eloquent preacher and the charming singer have gone, but their blessing abides. We received thirty-seven for baptism and four by letter, which, with thirteen received the week before the meeting, makes fifty-four additions in the last month.

Our church has received a great spiritual uplift, a fresh zeal for God, and we are planning for better things. Pastor and people are to be more aggressive in the Lord's work, and we are expecting a mighty harvest of which the blessings received are but the first fruits. It was the grandest closing of the century that we could have enjoyed. May the opening year of the next century be crowned with even greater blessings.

EAST LAKE.

I am assured that many throughout the state will rejoice with us when they know that the Lord has done for our church. Inasmuch as many homes with anxious hearts look toward Howard College, I send this greeting through the columns of the ALABAMA BAPTIST. Since August about fifty have been added to us by letter. During these four months I have thought there were evidences of deepening spiritual longing.

On the 28th of Nov. Bro. W. W. Hamilton, of the McFerran Memorial Baptist church, Louisville, Ky., came and preached for the church afternoons and evenings for nine successive days.

During this brief time Bro. Hamilton guided us in our work and prayer and the Holy Spirit guided Bro. Hamilton. The church was greatly aroused, benefited and rejoiced. The college boys were from the beginning moved to seek God through Jesus Christ. Happy the father or mother who had a boy at the Howard at this time. Faculty and students came to the house of prayer together, and on their knees together sought the face of the Lord. It was beautiful to see those of the town and those of the college work together. Ours is one church in a college town which has no divisions. It was difficult to close the meeting so early. How loth we were to have Bro. H. leave us.

There were many professions of conversion—not less than sixty. Sunday afternoon before a crowded house the pastor buried twenty-four of the converts in baptism. Others are waiting. Bro. Hamilton's preaching was of the most pleasing and helpful character. He preached the gospel for a ruined world. There were some noticeable answers to prayer and more requests, both from Christians and sinners, than I had ever seen.

Eight of the young men from college were baptized, and letters of thanksgiving are coming to the pastor from happy parents. Should not this help a Baptist father to decide where he will educate his son? I have never seen conditions moral and spiritual better than in East Lake. The church loves the college, and the college loves the church.

A Tribute from a Methodist Minister.

LOWNESBORO, Dec. 8, 1900.
Hon. J. G. Harris:

MY DEAR BROTHER—I know that you have experienced a great sorrow in the death of your affectionate daughter Annie, Mrs. Ruslin. I had the honor and pleasure of her acquaintance for two years. I was frequently in her home, and often met her in other places, and everywhere and at all times, she impressed me as a noble woman of the highest type, and a lady in the fullest sense of that word, and above all, and that which includes all, a true Christian. I am not surprised at the beautiful account you give of her triumphant departure to the home above. "Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory." "In thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore." "Whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord. We are willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord." "I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ, which is far better." Such scriptures as the above give inspiration to hope, disarm death of much of its terror, and afford great comfort to surviving friends of loved ones who have died in sight of the "Saints' Everlasting Rest."

Mrs. Ruslin's desire to die on Sunday, the "Lord's Day," commemorative of his resurrection, and typical of that "Rest or Sabbath that remaineth to the people of God," and her gifts of a Bible to a mission church and a piano to the orphanage, were inspired by Christian and benevolent sentiment, and beautifully indicative of her piety. What a great comfort it must be to you and Sister Harris that your affectionate daughter has left a "name which is an ointment poured forth," and has bidden the world adieu with the "blessed assurance" of eternal life in the home above. She always looked forward, with the greatest pleasure, to the visits of her parents, and would show me around in the yard things which you had done, and loved to talk about them. So she will be waiting for your entrance into the eternal city.

I wrote to Dr. Ruslin last Tuesday. When I began the letter I knew that his wife was extremely ill, but, before I concluded, the Advertiser was put into my hand announcing her death.

Among the ladies of Tallassee, none stood higher in our esteem and affection than Mrs. Annie Ruslin. My wife and self feel like we have lost a dear friend, and extend to you and Mrs. Harris our heartfelt sympathies in this hour of affliction. We have often spoken of her since we left Tallassee, and oftener since her death. We believe with you that, "It is all right." "God is too wise to err, too good to be unkind, and too holy to do wrong."

The following lines are appropriate to Mrs. Annie H. Ruslin:
"Calmed on the bosom of thy God,
Fair spirit! rest thee now!
E'en while with ours thy footsteps trod
His seal was on thy brow.
Dust, to its narrow house beneath!
Soul, to its place on high!
They that have seen thy look in death
No more may fear to die."

—Mrs. HEMANS.
Your brother,
Affectionately in Christ,
A. HOOD.

Bro. Dunlap is able to sit up some, but not strong enough to begin work.

Bro. Fancher was sick a day or two the first of the week.

J. A. Jenkins supplied last Sunday at Long Run church.

W. J. Ray is engaged in a two weeks' meeting at Kent, Indiana.

J. D. Ray has been preaching every night for the past week at Point Mission. He reports good results.

Evangelist T. T. Martin is conducting revival services at Third Avenue Baptist church, and W. C. Golden, of Nashville, Tenn., at Twenty-second and Walnut.

The Alabama boys are glad to hear of the good results of the meeting at East Lake, Ala. W. W. Hamilton, pastor of McFerran Memorial church, of Louisville, is preaching for Bro. Sheldorn at East Lake. Thus we feel a double interest in the meeting. Report comes that several of the Howard College boys have been converted.

One of the students who wrote home for money received this laconic reply: "We think of you often, and love you ever, but our money is short too."

A peculiar feature of the Seminary work this session is one hour a week instruction in music. Prof. McConnathy, of Louisville, directs the study. Last Tuesday night he deviated a little from the regular program to give us a brief but interesting review of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," which is to be given in Louisville next week.

At the missionary meeting last Monday the report showed 1076 children being taught in the Baptist missions of the city, and forty-two Seminary students teaching.

The delightful feature of the meeting was an address on "Missionary Work of Bible Translation," delivered by Dr. W. H. Marquess, president of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of Louisville. Dr. Dargan spoke for a few moments in the interest of the fund being raised by the Seminary to support a missionary on the foreign field. Last session we raised $566.00; this session we do not propose to fall below that amount. If a preacher has not the missionary spirit he endangers himself by coming to the Seminary. The root, and perfect stem, of the Seminary is missions. SAM COWAN, Louisville, Ky., Dec. 8, 1900.

Crumpton's Trip Notes of travel over the state. I thank him for what he has said in our behalf.

GASTON ROBBINS CRUMPTON.

Just one week after return of T. U. Crumpton from his Eastern trip, his cherished boy was taken to the heavenly home.

I stopped on my way from Convention to see my nephew and his God-given wife and her dear old mother, Sister DuBose, one of the true women of the world.

While they all seemed delighted that the father had been preserved through so perilous a journey, and were all once more united under the home roof, there was a dark shadow resting upon the otherwise joyous home.

The dear boy, the granddaddy of those not members of the household, he must have been a prodigy. He was born to sweeten a home for a few months and days, and then to be transplanted in a higher, purer home, to exhale a fragrance even there, grateful to Him who said: "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." It was never my privilege to see the dear child, but I love his memory for his parent's sake, and for the wonderful elements of character of which he was possessed.

This is the fourth child they have lost, and more devoted parents were never known. They have two very interesting children left, a daughter and a two year old boy. These are attractive, and are enough to delight any parents but such as had inhaled the fragrance of four other objects of the heart's affection, who had been so apparently ruthlessly torn away. My soul was as full of sympathetic affection as it could be, as Ursula (who seems as near to me as if united by ties of blood) with streaming eyes told me she had said in prayer to God for the preservation and return of her almost idolized husband, that she was willing to submit to almost any kind of privation if this prayer should be answered. She need not chide herself, for God only sent her husband off and brought him back to gladden her heart, so she might not be overborne by the stroke when he should call Robbins to himself. Four little angel spirits, fond parents and grandmother, "waiting and watching" for you. Only cultivate the child spirit. Having "received the kingdom of heaven as a little child," be comforted with the assurance of Christ: "Thou hast revealed these things to babes." Look and wait, and you will yet see God's grace, justice and love in your bereavements. "I commend you to God and the word of his grace." Under the shadow of his wings no evil can befall you.

The loving uncle,
B. H. CRUMPTON.

OBITUARY.

On November 4th, 1900, the angel of death hovered over the home of Miss Georgia Gullette and bore her pure spirit home to glory.

Miss Georgia professed religion early in life, and joined Farmville Baptist church, Lee county, of which she was a member at the time of her death.

Miss Georgia suffered much during her sickness, but she bore it all with Christian fortitude. The day of her death she repeated several times the scripture, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." Doubtless she realized that it would be better for her to depart and be with the Lord. A few weeks before her death she handed the writer $10, saying, "I have been sick all the year, but here is ten dollars I want you to send to the Orphans' Home." Little did she think then, that she would, so soon, be called home to glory to receive the rich reward, for this and her many other deeds of kindness.

We pray God's blessings upon her brother and sister's who were so kind and attentive to her during her illness.

J. P. H. LaFayette.

Mrs. John D. Harris departed this life September 13, 1900. She joined the Missionary Baptist church in 1878. She was a consistent member of Mt. Hebron church at her death, and all who knew her loved her. She was born March 11, 1828, and married Dec. 15, 1879. She was a devoted wife and a good neighbor. She will be greatly missed from her church and by her pastor. May God bless her husband.

H. R. SCHRAMM.

Macedonia church, Hale county, Ala., has been called on by the messenger of death to give up one of her faithful members, who was also her faithful sexton—Bro. George L. Garnett. He was born in July, 1838, and died August 15, 1900. He joined the Baptist church in 1866, was a good husband, kind father and good neighbor, and is greatly missed by his children and community. May the Lord bless the afflicted wife and children.

H. R. SCHRAMM.

Death has again deprived Stewart's church of another of its members in the death of Mrs. A. M. Abernathy, nee Windham, who died at Attalla, Ala., August 11th, in her 21st year. She joined the Baptist church at Stewart in August, 1886. She was born in Arkansas; she was an obedient daughter and affectionate wife and sister. May God's blessing rest on the bereaved.
