The program for the educational campaign for the Baptist churches in the Bibb County Association, July 3 to July 29, 1914, is an interesting one. Rev. J. G. Chastain, returned mis-sionary from the foreign field, will be expected to speak at each church. Also Miss Patrick or Mrs. Hamilton are expected to speak to the ladies at each church.

This is a fine country down here in more ways than one. There seems to be the opportunity here for a good work, and I pray that the Father may use me to advance His kingdom in this place. Have had eight additions to the church since I came here. Remember me to the brethren in Ala-

> From Notasulga: The revival meeting here has just closed. Dr. W. D. Hubbard, of Dadeville, came to us and for 10 days preached unto us Jesus. There were visible results. We bap tized eight and received three by letter. One of the letters was 13 years old, but, having no time limit, was accepted, and foyously at that, Brother Hubbard grew on us, and sweet are the memories we shall cherish because of his helpful ministrations. We paid him well because he served us conscientiously, faithfully, capably and altogether acceptably. He knows the Lord, believes the word, preaches the truth.-Pastor.

International Sunday-School Convention

Electricity was to keep before the eyes of the del-gates to the 14th international Sunday School Convention the words Jesus Shall Heign," which was the theme of the convention held in Chicago from June 23 to 30.

Above the electric sign bearing these words which was hung over the stage in Medinah Temple was a picture of Oriental people observing the Mohamme-Christ's message of Love.

Representatives from every Province of British America, from the Haland possessions of the United States and from every State of the Union were delegates to the convention, which was the largest ever held. Europe, Asia Africa and Austria also had representatives. All of these coming from East and

"Jesus shall reign where'er the sun

Does his successive journeys run; His kingdom spread from shore to shore,

Till moons shall wax and wane no more.

It was with this song that the convention opened Tuesday evening, June 23, and it was with the same song that the convention closed June 30. How they did sing under the leadership of Prof. E. O. Excell and Prof. A. W. Roper at the plano.

To record only partially the plans and the addresses of the more than four hundred speakers at the one hundred and fifty-seventh session of the convention held in forty-one churches, besides the Auditorium hotel, Princess Theatre, the Moody Bible Institute and Medinah Temple will require the publishing or a report of six hundred pages, a copy of which will be mailed to each delegate.

The goals set by Marion Lawrence, general secretary of the International Sunday School Association, will become the objectives for the more than 18,441,-036 members of the 175,000 Sunday schools, which constitute the organized Sunday School forces of North America.

Mr. Lawrance thrilled the convention when he called upon them to strive to gain each year for the next quadrennial.

1,000,000 New Sunday school members.

1,000,000 Total abstitence pledge signers,

1,000,000 Accessions to the church from Sunday school membership.

10,000,000 to be reached through home visitation campaigns.

25,000 Additional organized classes in the secondary and adult divisions of the Sunday schools.

20,000 New home departments.

50,000 New crade rolls.
5,000 New mission study classes.

100,000 New mempers enrolled in teacher training

A city fraining school or institute in every city of fifty thousand or more with at least one or more in every State or province

100 New graded unions.

10,000 Organized classes engaged in some definite form of community service.

Only denominations recognizing the Deity of Jesus Christ and the Bible as the only Word of Jehovah can become affiliated with the Sunday School Association. This recommendation was made by the Ex-ecutive committee after it had discussed pro and con for hours the advisibility of such action. The convention, without a clasenting vote approved the recommendation of the executive Committee. Christian Scientists, the reorganized Mormon and similar bodies are thus excluded from membership or any possible membership with the Sunday School Association.

The time for holding conventions was changed, and will be held quadrennially in the future instead of triennially. The next International Convention is diligence on the part of all Sunday schools in the to be held in New York in 1918.

A budget of $101,060 a year was approved, which will permit the establishment of several new depart- tion of the liquor traffic, for the extinction of the ments headed by experts.

The lesson committee, formerly appointed wnony by the Internacional Sunday School convention, in tuture will be comprised of representatives selected by the International Sunday School Association, the Sunday School Council of evangelistic denominations and by all denominations having lesson committees.

Applause followed the reading by Marlon Law dan law of prayer; reminding the delegates of the rance at the opening session of the convention of millions of persons who have not been conquered by telegrams from President Woodrow Wilson, Secretelegrams from President Woodrow Wilson, Secretary of State William J. Bryan and Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, Count Okuma, Premier of Japan, through the delegates to the convention from Japan, also sent greetings to the convention in which he referred to the World's Sunday School Convention to be held in Toyko, Japan in 1916.

"In this the Fourteenth Convention of the International Sunday School Association, assembled m Chicago, we, the Officers and Delegates express our profound thankfulness to Almighty God for the gracious way He has led us through another Triennium; for the enlargement of Sunday School Work, and for its increasing power and achievements in soul winning, in character-building, in Social Service, and in the creation and culture of righteous, loyal Cicizenship. We especially thank Him for the peaceful, harmonious way in which, during this Convention, He has led us out of our constitutional and legislative difficulties into the clear promising pathway of the future, until under the unerring leadership of the Holy Spirit, we believe the Sunday School more and more shall become an agency for individual salvation and world betterment.

SOME SUNDAY SCHOOL STATISTICS.

Here are a few extracts from the report of Marion Lawrance at Chicago:

"Every State and province has a paid general secretary of its own, except the more sparely settled States of Mexico, Arizona, Nevadah, Utah and Wy-We have a record of 1,690,739 Sunday school officers and teachers, showing a gain of 19,-893 over the record of three years ago.

The total Sunday school enrollment of North America is 18,441,036, being a gain of 1,823,686, meaning that 1,665 new members join our Sunday schools for every day of the year.

The home department shows a membership of 788, 057, being a gain of 143,650.

The cradle rolls now number over 44,000, with an enrollment of over a million. This indicates a gain of 347,000.

Two thousand, five hundred ninety-two countles of the 3,442 counties in our field are now organized, and out of these 1,122 counties have reached the banner standard, indicating that they are fully covered with township, city or district organizations. This is a gain of 51 counties organized and 72 banner counties. Three hundred and eleven cities have organizations of their own, being an increase of 74.

The number of Sunday school conventions held during the last triennium reaches the enormous figure of 58,435. This shows a gain of 5,055. This means that we are holding 19,478 conventions annually, or an average of over 50 conventions a day, including State, provincial, county, township and city.

The total number of Sunday schools reported is not what we would like it to be. The figures indicate 9,394747, which is just about 50 per cent of the enrollment. The enrollment, however, includes the home department and the cradle roll.

Decision day, or its equivalent, was observed dur ing the triennium in 28,302 Sunday schools.

One great occasion for rejoicing is that according to the figures there were added to the church from the Sunday school by conversion and confirmation, during the triennlum, 1,055,444. This is a decrease from our last report of about 140,000. However, the figures are encouraging. They indicate that about 6,765 of our scholars unite with our churches every Sunday during the year,

The number of schools holding workers' meetings weekly is reported as 18,864.

There has been a large gain in the number of departments reported as using the graded lessons. We report 16,869 beginners' departments, as against 10. 234 given in our last report, also 18,578 primary de-partments, as against 8,773, and 17,763 junior de-partments, as against 7,310. This shows a total gain in departments using the graded lessons of 26,893, or a trifle over 100 per cent. In addition to the above, there are reported 5,914 intermediate depart ments and 3,625 senior departments using the graded lessons.

There are 171 graded unions reported, with a membership of 6,238. Three years ago we reported 179 graded unions, and Bix years ago 258.

The secondary division reports 10,416 organized classes, with a registration of 93,345.

The adult department has made a great gain in its organized classes, reporting 43,517, as against 22, 567. Six hundred and sixty one classes are reported as having disbanded. The total registration of adult classes is 819,061. The estimated membership of adult classes not organized is 1.116,316.

The number of first standard diplomas granted for teacher-training is 31,321, a gain of 4,313. The number of advanced standard diplomas grant ed is 1,905, a gain of 1,435.

There have been 4,035 seals granted for specialization in teacher training.

City training schools have been held in 63 cities, and have enrolled 13,930.

The number of schools reporting definite mission ary instruction is 18,597.

Home visitation has been carried on in 156 citie and 72 counties, reaching 16,856,000 people.

When we were half way through the triennium we instituted a pledge-signing campaign, hoping to reach a million pledge-signers for the triennium. We are glad to report 1,049,314.

There are 97 superintendents, associations in cities and towns. Seven of our associations report having to superintendents departments and 33 have not.

A COUNTRY TRIP IN CHINA.

By J. T. Williams

China. I did not make this trip because of the good Chow. I could do the people, but because of the good they who may chance to read these words may be encour-could do me. The territory covered by the South China Mission tion in that province, we went 300 miles up the river. All along the way were cities, market towns and villages by the thousand. I spent some time sitting out on top of the motor boat on which we travmight in their hearts belong to our Lord.

A large part of Kwong Salas yet untouched by the gospel. There is great need of more men and women man the stations we already have, and a large number of new stations ought to be opened.

But to some extent the depr ression of these appall- and keep it there.

ed Sunday school work, 189, a gain of 35, Num-ing needs was alleviated when we reached Shek her of paid workers giving part time, 132, a gain of Tong, which is practically a Christian village. This 89, showing a gain since our last report of 124 work- mud-house village has about 400 inhabitants. About 32 years ago a Chinese preacher visited there, talked the gospel to one of the men and left a book for him to read. In a few weeks he believed and accepted Christ as his personal Savior, but kept it a secret Tho the world may be mirch the good name of the for a time. Shortly afterwards he went with the preacher who had given him the gospel to Canton, 350 miles away, to be baptized, though he did not tell his people the purpose of his trip. When he returned they found out what he had done. At once they had an indignation meeting and gave him a severe beating. This one beating was not enough for so great a crime, so they continued to persecute him for several days. It was a joy to see this old soldier of the cross on the very spot and hear his graphic description of his persecution. But he was faithful to his Master, and soon they began to inquire among themselves what it was that could make him hold out against such persecution. It was not long till they realized it was a power they had never known before and they wanted to learn about it. The result was that soon, one by one, they began to give their hearts to the Lord of all the earth.

At present one-third of the people of this village deed that are true to their creed, belong to the church, another third or more are interested in Christianity and are largely dominated That are standing for right in the thick of the fight, by its principles, while there are a few who still practice a little idol worship at certain seasons, but are friendly to Christianity. They have a large church building, which will seat about 300 people, built partly of burned and partly of sun-dried brick. It cost about $700 (gold), of which $500 was contributed by themselves and $200 by the missionaries. They realized the need of a new church, and every one agreed to give one month's salary last year for that purpose. It cost more than they had anticlpated, and some of them gave another month's salary. Even though there may have been some Chi nese who were Christians for the loaves and fishes, to my mind this is positive proof that there is one group of them who are in the church to honor and glorify their Lord.

We were at this place on Sunday. Brother Tipton preached; then they celebrated the Lord's Supper and had a business meeting. The building, the services and the general spirit of the people were not unlike the best type of country church at home. There was a Christian atmosphere to be felt in the village which I have felt no where else in China. The membership of the church is 200 or 300, some of

Besides the church, they have a boys' boarding school, with an attendance of about 50 students. It is owned and operated entirely by the Chinese, and is a monument to the power of the gospel in China and to their ability to advance in Christian culture.

It was a great spiritual uplift to be present at this service and see how the gospel has transformed this have just returned from my first country trip in God has done for Shek Tong He will do for all the na. "We must take care of everything we have, Every is immense. This trip was up the West river into Baptist should stand for every other Baptist and all Kwong Sai province. From Wu Chow, the main stand together for everything that is right."—Baptist stand together for everything that is right."-Baptist Standard.

Wonder if that is the Texas Baptist spirit! Thereis nothing little or mean about it. It is very definite and determined. Baptist success is bound to follow eled looking at the cities and villages we passed, the working out of that sentiment. Why not in gazing at the beautiful hills and valleys and thinking Alabama, too? "Everything we have" is worth while, of the progress of the kingdom. As I sat thus think- and "we must take care" of it. No school, no board, ing these words of the Psalmist came to me: "Every no institution must be left to struggle alone. Let beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a all stand or fall together. From the organization of thousand hills." Then I prayed for the time to come the State Board of Missions that has been the sentiwhen the Chinese of a thousand cities and villages ment pervading the board. The secretary and every missionary have been for the Alabama Baptist, every school, every board. Like a band of brothers, every Baptist standing for every other Baptist, and wholeheartedly "all standing together for everything that is right," will put our cause in Alabama to the front W. B. CRUMPTON.

On account of a threatened collapse Dr. G. Campbell Morgan has been compelled to resign the presi dency of Chestnut College.

Margaret Gardner has been made city attorney Los Angeles and assigned the special duty of handling cases in which women are involved, a class of work in which she has already achieved great success as an aroiter.

The Alliance, of the Pahama Railroad Steamship line, was the first passenger ship to make the passage from ocean to ocean. The chief purpose of this fry out the electrical tow experimental trip was to ing machines. It is reported that these locomotives worked perfectly, and that the biggest liner affort can now be handled easils in the Gatun and Miranores locks.

Dr. George Fitzpatrick of Chicago, made a scathing arraignment of modern society women before the American Institute of Homeopathy in convention at Atlantic City recently. He declared that the women of today who are of the "cigarette-smoking, cocktail-drinking, tango mad" class make poor moth ers and are the cause of infant mortality. "The woman 1 have described," he said, "is a defective, a

On May 19 the Welsh disestablishment bill, have ing been passed on its third journey through the lower house, became a law, the first under the new parliament act, that is, without the consent of the jords. The bill provided that so far as Wales and the shire of Monmouth are conderned, the Church of England will cease to be established by law; that all cathedrals and ecclematical corporations are fe be dissolved, and that the hishops of the four Welsh diocese cease to be members of the house of lords. According to figures presented by Home Secretary McKenna, the greater part of the income of the Weish church will not be affected by disestablishment-"the only portion of the income affected being the sum of £157,000 represented by ancient endow-ments, chiefly tithes." The "life interests" which the bill perpetuates, on the other hand, are estimated to be worth $10,000,000.

After his return to this country Colonel Roosevelt, in an address before the National Geographic Society at Washington, gave an account of his exploration of the "River of Doubt." As to the length of this river Colonel Roosevelt said: We found that the river flowed steadily northward, after we got embarked on it, between the 59th and 69th meridians of longitude due west from Greenwich never varying except between those two meridents. Where we embarked it had already run for roughly something in the neighborhood of 300 kilometers. We went down in cances something in the neighborhood of 800 kilometers, and then down by steamer to the mouth in the neighborhood of 306 to 400 kilometers, making from 1,400 to 1,500 kilometers, all told, somewhere between 900 and 950 miles."

It is interesting to note that Dr. George Brandes, Denmark's "first citizen," who recently visited America, regards Emerson has the greatest American thinker and Poe as the foremost of American poets. He considers Whitman more living than Swinburne. but much less an artist, and censures him for slovenliness of form. Longfellow, he says, is beloved of the Danes for his translation of the Danish national hymn. In a lecture Dr. Brandes denied the oft-repeated statement that Shakespeare "has effectively concealed his personality in his works" and showed how many things in the life of the poet were mirrored in his writings. He said::: "Shakespeare is not 36 plays a few poems jumbled together and read pell mell, but a man who felt; and thought, rejoiced and suffered, brooded, dreamed and created. For too long it has been the custom to say, 'we know nothing about Shakespear' or that 'an octavo page would contain all our knowledge of him. Even Swinburne has written of the intangibility of his personality in his works, Such assertions have been carried so far that a writehed group of dilettanti has been bold enough in Purope and America to deny William Shakespeare the right to his own life-work, to give to another the nenor due to his genius, and to bespatter him and his invulnerable name with an abuse which has re-echoed through every land."

DITORIA

CARNEGIE AND THE CHURCHES

The "canny" Scot has at last learned that he can not carry out his fondest dream without the aid of churches. He found it easy to give away libraries, to even discriminate against teachers in religious institutions, but despite his wealth and grouch against churches, in announcing the gift Mr. Carnegie said:

"Certain that the strongest appeal that tan be made is to members of the religious bodies, to you I hereby appeal, hoping you will feel it to be not only muscle degenerate. She is a weaking, morally, your daty, but your pleasure, to undertake the admentally, physically and socially."

ministration of $2,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds, the ministration of $2,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds, the income to be so used as, in your judgment, will most that as man in civilized lands is compelled by law to submit personal disputes to courts of law, so nations shall appeal to the court at the Hague or to such tribunals as may be mutually agreed upon, and bow to the verdict rendered, thus insuring the reign of national peace through the international law. After war is abolished by the leading nations, the trustees, by a vote of two-thirds, may decide that a better use for the funds than those named in the preceding paragraph have been found, and are free, according to their own judgment, to devote the income to the best advantage for the good of their fellow men."

This endowment is in addition to the fund of $10,-000,000 devoted by Mr. Carnegle in 1910 to "hasten the abolition of international war," and to the cost of the Peace Palace at the Hague.

We are glad of the gift, but gladder to know that Mr. Carnegie is beginning to realize that the churches are not without influence. In connection with the present gift is the organization of a permanent "Church Peace Union" with a board of 27 trustees, headed by Bishop Greer, of New York, and including leaders of Christians and Jews, which adopted the following resolution:

"That we, as members of the Church Peace Union; sin. ples, Unitarian, Jewish and Universalist churchesas our first duty appeal to the rulers, statesmen and people of all civilized lands to give their immediate, earnest and prayerful attention to the lamentable facts here presented. Here lies, ss it appears to us. the two outstanding evils of our day, entailing grave responsibilities upon all religious men, from emperor to workmen, that the crime of men killing each other may soon be banished from the face of the earth. First, the combined debt of the world, mostly borrowed and used for war purposes, amounts to nearly $37,000,000,000. The interest charge of the world on its national bonded debt amounts to $1,500,000,000. Amount expended yearly on standing armies and battleships, $2,500,000,0000. Second, the second and distressed crime of our day is that in war we are still capturing private property upon the high seas, although it is exempt from confiscation in war upon the land."

Porfirio Diaz, who was in power 30 years and now is enjoying life in France with his spoils, is responsible for the present state of affairs in Mexico. He became president in 1877 through a revolt. By that time the people, exhausted with so many civil and foreign wars, fell into a relaxation that permitted Diaz to get a strong hold of the reigns of the governfrom the ministers down, being always careful, however, to show that his was a "constitutional" government.

An interesting discussion has been proceeding in one of the New York papers concerning the best short story. A wag suggests this: "Enclosed find check in full of account." What delightful reading this would make coming, this hot weather, from some thousands of our friends. They might shorten it further and simply write: "Enclosed find check." We will do the rest.-Religious Herald.

It is said that Chancellor James R. Day, of Syra cuse University, is the one man in the history o Methodism who was elected a bishop, yet remained steadfastly wedded to the task in hand. When James R. Charles H. Speaking before the bureau of dermatology at the convention of physicinus at Atlantic City, Dr. R. P. This is the most important of all remedies to curb this awful There is a tremendous religious awakening representing the following religious bodies: Episco. throughout the world at the present time, and I do pal, Roman Catholic, Methodist, Baptist, Lutheran, not think it out of place to call attention to it before Congregational, Presbyterian, Church of the Disci- this splendid body of doctors. A discriminating writer says; "Mr. Andrew Carnegie is an illustration of a man with a splendul intellectual equipment. No one questions it. But he speaks 'inadvisedly with his lips' in reference to religion. Why is this thus? It is because he has not applied his giant intellect to such considerations. On the subject of 'steel rails' he is an expert. He has given the benefit of all his thinking powers to that study. If he knew his Bible as thoroughly as his fathers did, if he applied his great faculties to Scriptural studies, it is not too much to aver that Mr. Carnegie would be a devout follower of the meek and lowly Jesus; of the Divine human Redeemer. He would thus see most clearly that Jesus Christ is really and truly 'God manifest in the flesh,' and that He became incarnate that, as one of us. B. Y. P. U. WORK OF THE SOUTH-ERN BAPTIST CONVENTION.

(Continued from Last Week.) Training for Church Membership. This, as has been stated, has become the ideal of the Baptist Young People's Union work in this section Just as a business college denies itself the general field of education and confines itself to the one task of preparing those who wish to enter business life as bookkeepers, stenogra-phers and clerks, the B. Y. P. U. was so directed as to confine its efforts not to general Christian culture, ou to the specific task of making better church members. As has been said above, the group plan has been a great and helpful feature along this It has been brought to the fore front because the aim was not to have a good meeting at any give time for the edification of the pastor or older brethren, but to have a meeting where the young people were learning to do things which they must afterward do in the general work of the church. The ideal of the B. Y. P. U. then be comes not the enthusiasm of a given meeting, but how many of its members actually have been developed week by week and made effective workers. With this change in ideal comes a new incentive. Many unions unable to have a large membership had become discouraged because they could not have a crowd; many where large company could be gathered found that they were not doing anything worth while. In every case, by the introduction of the group plan, they found what they were lacking, The small union discovered that it had plenty of ability to carry on the meeting and had some very great advan tages because there were not many in. the union. Indeed, it has now become an accepted fact that a union numbering more than 50 is too large and ought to be subdivided. The young people's meeting is now no longer simply another church prayer meeting, or another place for the pastor to preach, or a place where a few intelligent younger men and women hold forth to those a little younger. It has become a place where all the young people of the church are grouped together, and each one given something to do, and that something along the line of greater effectivenes in doing

Great stress is laid upon the weekly meeting. It is brought to the fore front. It is the place where most young people can be gathered to gether, and, therefore, the place of greatest opportunity. The study class is not disparaged; it gets the pick of those who come to the regular weekly meeting of the union, but it gets them because of what that meeting has done for them. The weekly meeting cannot be educational except as it remains interesting. It must provide, not for consecutive study, but for topics with some educational direction, and yet each one interesting in and of itself, for the members are not regular in their attendance, and we must always provide for strangers. regular weekly meeting have some ed-ucational purpose, the topics were arranged under four heads, and one meeting each month was to be strictly devotional, with a prepared topic; one was to be a Bible study meeting, when the topic should cover a book, a chapter, a character, or some special theme for a Bible reading; a doctrinal meeting, with topics coverling our distinctive doctrines, the great funda-mental truths of religion, the doc trines of salvation, and kindred themes; one meeting to be the mis-sionary meeting, the topics being those used by the Woman's Missionary Union and other organizations, and which were treated from month to month in the Foreign Mission Journal, the Home Field and the Baptist state papers. When there is an odd meeting, as happens once every three months, the subjects of temp good citizenship the call to the minis try and the need of trained and educated workers are emphasized. Through a course of years it has Through a cour been found that this general series of topics has proven in every way help-The topice are treated in the B. Y. P. U. Quarterly. The informa-tion given makes the topic plain, so that those using it should be able to develop the thought of the theme for themselves. A program is given in defail by which the groups can carry on the different meetings of the month. From the very beginning we have laid unusual stress upon the weekly meeting. It has been felt that was the center of everything. Without it none of the other interests could survive. When it was also made the center of the training work and the two things went together it became in truth the greatest feature of the work of any B. Y. P. U.

The Study Course.

The organization of the Baptist oung People's Union and the conducting of a vigorous and enthusiastic eekly meeting will always bring together a number of young people enger for a little more training than that which is possible in the short hour of the weekly meeting. The edu-cational idea is prominent in all religious work, and pught to be. The special feature of the B. Y. P. U. work of the south has been that it has planned its study course along the line of its motto "Training for church membership." An education commit-tee of six men has for several years been directing this feature of They have planned for text work. books which should have for their purpose the training of Bantist young people for efficiency as church work ers. The first of these books is typi-cal. It bore the title of "Training in Church Membership" and was a brief. simple study of the principles from which a church is organized, the inti-tual relations of the members and the church, and the work which the church is set to do. This has been followed by other books along the same line, including certain books on sions which tell of the work which Southern Baptists are themselves do-ing. The study course as planned for covers 13 weeks. It is hoped there will be one course in the fall and another in the spring. Sometimes the work of the study course is done in connection with the weekly meeting, taking up half of the time of each evening. The most successful way, however, has always been to meet on a separate night. In some cases the work is done by meeting for a couple of hours every night for a week. The result of this study course work has en to take the most interested and best trained workers and give them a clear and comprehensive under-standing of the doctrines, the duties and obligations of intelligent Baptists. Ye servants of God, your Master proclaim And publish abroad His wonderful name; The name all-victorious of Jesus extol; His kingdom is glorious, and rules over all

Then let us adore, and give Him His right, All glory and power and wisdom and might, All honor and blessing, with angels above. And thanks never ceasing, for infinite love

THE BLUERIDGE CONPERENCE.

Now do you not wish that you could have been there, dear Alabama Y. W. A.'s and leaders? You cannot know how many times your leader wished that you could have the privilege of attending this beautiful conference.

I know just how many questions you would like to ask about it all, and I wish we might have a "Blueridge party" and let the Alabama delegates tell you of the wonderful things they saw and heard while

The Alabamians in attendance were: Kathleen Mallory, of Baltimore, Md.; Irene Embry, Ashville, Ala.; Mae Peaks, Montgomery; Clyde Metcalfe, Montgomery; Bernice Jackson, Evergreen; Ulma Crumpton, Selma; Corrie and E. C. Nowlin, Gadsden; Mrs. D. I. Purser and Rev. Frank Moody

Purser, Richmond, Va.
"Where is Blueridge?" About 16 miles from Asheville, N. C., simply surrounded by mountains Oh, if you could have only gathered with us on the large veranda for the Vesper services as the sunset glow came over the mountains! We realized more fully that our God was the wonderful Creator. In those quiet evening services were were drawn closes to nature's God. The Vesper service, led by the volunteers—those who were going out across the waters as His messengers-almost made us want to

"Why did we go and what did we do?" We went because we realized the need of better training for service.

This conference is one of the conferences con ducted by the Missionary Education Movement, which is held annually for the purpose of bringing together young men and young women of all denominations to study methods of work

We had the opportunity of taking one of the many courses in mission study—Winning Young People for Service, Mission in the Sunday School and Story Telling. The quiet hour services, led by Dr. Williams, were helpful, as were the platform meetings, with splendid addresses by a returned missionary or other able speakers.

The conference was truly an uplift to those who attended. The outdoor life was all that one could ask. In the afternoons parties of young people could be seen starting out for a "mountain hike" to "High Top" or "Brown's Pasture," where the mountains were beautiful with daisies, mountain laurel and rhodendron. Perhaps others were on their way to the swimming pool or tennis court.

This was a happy and helpful experience to be thrown with so many young and older people who had gone to the "mountain top" for a clearer vision of God's plan for His workman.

Will you not join the party another year?

The Y. W. A.'s of Alabama are grateful to our send to the mission rooms and your leader will be diately after organization.

How we love to think of the beautiful work our Chinese dolls, illustrated missionary programs, pic-young people are doing. You will be glad to know ture cards, wall mottoes, etc.
that the T. W. A.s and S. B. B. s more than met FISH are given out, not as souvenirs, but as a retheir apportionment, and I feel sure that the R. A.'s will be more loyal "Ambassadors of the King" in every feature of their work this year.

young people we have a great task before us. Doubtless you have read many times about the W. M. U. Training School at Louisville, Ky. We have something new to fell you about this now. So many girls have wanted to enter the school, and they kept coming until the "House Beautiful" was crowded to the limit. It was decided in Nashville that the school must be enlarged. You know it will never do large the school, and Alabama has promised $5,000 of this amount,

Listen! Our president of the Woman's Mission-ary Union in Alabama has such confidence in the young people that she suggested that we become responsible for a part of $5,000. You may get fright-ened at these figures, but I think we should feel honored to have our W. M. U. ask us to give $600 a hree years to the enlargement fund. Don't you think so? I am sure that we are going to plan right away to send in our apportionment for this fund. Our slogan shall be, "Not failure, but low aim is crime."

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Y. W. A.s and Girls Auxiliaries will be interested to know that Miss Hester Avant, of Eclectic, Ala., will be our representative at the Training School, this year, having been awarded the Y. W. A. scholarship. Is it not beautiful to know that we have a representative there each year?

ARE YOU GOING TO THE ENCAMPMENT IN AUGUSTT

Will you not plan to attend the encampment from the 1st so the 10th of August? Besides the W. M. U. hour each morning there will be helpful addresses, mission study classes and just what you want in your Sunday school work. Let us pray that this may be one of the most inspiring meetings we have had at Pelham.

We would remind the Y. W. A.s and coilege girls of the important place which has been given them on the program and urge as many young women as possible to come. There will be things of interest to all ages of young people.

CATECHISMS on the work of our State, Home and Foreign Mission Boards furnish information that both leaders and children should know.

THE CATALOGUE of Baltimore publications is most valuable. See leaflets on each foreign counto let these who are longing for training for His try, also special ones for Sunbeams on page 19; blog-work be turned away. It will take $75,000 to en raphy page, 13, and especially exercises, dialogues. songs, etc., on pages 13 to 15. In this list are splendid things, very inexpensive, for missionary entertainments, anniversary meetings, public and regular meetings, etc. Some of the best things are marked. All are ordered from Baltimore. (We have no PRICED literature at this office.) The young people's societies can do much good in creating missionary interest, giving information, etc., by means of these special programs, and at least one or two should be given each year, inviting the whole church.

THE YEAR BOOK is very important, and should be earefully read. Study the "Sunbeam Department," notice the monthly "Record" for keeping the Standard of Excellence, also the Questionaire.

REPORTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS.-Each band should write a letter to the associational superintendent once each quarter. All gifts to missions should be sent to Miss Laura Lee Patrick.

OUR MISSION FIELDS or "Royal Service" has the programs for each months. It is necessary for the leader to take this, but it costs only 25 cents a year. It would also be well for the president to take it. Order from Mrs. W. R. Nimmo, 15 West Franklin street, Baltimore, Md.

THE FOREIGN MISSION JOURNAL (25 cents in clubs of 10), KIND WORDS (50 cepts a year, ordered from the Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tenn.,) and THE HOME FIELD (25 cents in clubs of 10), furnish splendid missionary literature for meetings.

Samples of all the above literature are sent to new Sunbeam Bands and others requesting it. This should be carefully kept and given to succeeding leaders when changes are made.

s 7 (E. J. Loucks in Journal and Messenger.)

The convention which convened July 2 at Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo., will go down into history of Baptist young people activities as a memorable occasion, this being the first joint convention of B. Y. P. U. A. Kansas City's Convention Bill, which needs no introduction, was benutifully decorated with our own and Canadian flags. A chorus of 250 Kansas City young people added much to the enjoyment of the song services. One can readily imagine the enthusiasm present in such a jarge gathering of young people. Of the visiting delegations, Alabama, with 18 members, came near to capturing the mileage banner, which went to the illinois delegation of 130 members. Aside from Missouri and Kansas delegations, Illinois, Iowa, Alabana, Nebraska, Ohio and Michigan were present in numbers in order named. In the awarding of pengants to unions that attained 100 per cent standard of efficiency Willson Avenue, Cleveland, took first place; Antioch, Cleveland, was among the 12 unions which reached this high mark.

Mr. H. W. Reed, outgoing secretary, who has served through 19 consecutive conventions, was presented with a loving cup.

Mr. Frank L. Anderson was re-elected president. Keynotes of the convention, as struck by various speakers, are faithfulness, intelligent and trained service, efficiency and high standards.

Young People in Their individual and Religious Life. In the address of welcome Dr. J. C. Armstrong, of Kansas City, emphasized the need of faithful service. In his response Ret. George P. Beers, of Maryland, a border state, spoke of the significance of this conventions. He expressed the wish and the belief that out of this convention may come some plan bringing about unity of operations of the south and the north and Canada, taking the best of each and building a stronger structure.

President W. W. Hamilton, of the B. Y. P. U. South, urged genuineness and intelligent application, training not merely entertainment, foundation laying, not flag raising pervice not mere show, building of real character. Find out what God is doing and do it with Him.

The subject of the keynote address by Dr. H. L. Winburn, of Kentucks, was "The Call of Christ as Interpreted by This Convention." Christ calls to 100 per cent faithfulness, which is consecration of the whole man, to the whole task, the whole time.

The work of the B. Y. P. U. South was ably presented by Dr. I. J. YanNess, of the Sunday School Board, S. B. C., in an address on "Educational Courses and Literature of the Southern B. Y. P. U.," and by L. P. Leavell, of Mississippi, who spoke of "Baptist Young People and Their Union."

They work by the group system, membership in a union limited to about 50, as many as six unions in some churches. Every member is placed on some one of the four or five groups into which the union is divided. The meetings each month are: One devotional, one missionary, one of Bible study and one on Baptist doctrines. When there is a fifth Sunday subjects such as citizenship, temperance or Christian education are studied. The program is in charge of some one group, each member of which having a definite part in the service. They place the emphasis on the individual member, aiming by instruction and practice to train for church activity. Their two motioes are: "We Study That We May Serve" and "All Baptist Young People Utilized." A delegation of 1s members from Birmingham, Ala, demonstrated a model meeting under their system.

The educational work of the B. Y. P. U. was presented by Dr. George T. Webb, of the American Baptist Publication Society, who laid special emphasis upon daily Bible study, the sacred literature and conquest missionary courses.

Dr. W. W. Hamilton called attention to five temptations which led to defeat of young people, namely: purposelessness, neglect, worldly pleasures, doubt and inactivity. Air jo maintain a high and lofty purpose.

Dr. J. C. Massee, of Ohlo, responded on topic, "Victory in Christ." Victory is won by our having a clearand definite heavenly rision, ever pressing on toward the heavenly ideal. Get the habit of victory.

Young People in Their Society, Church and Denomination—Friday, July 3.

The relation of the young people to their union was defined by L. P. Leavell as the training of young, inexperienced Christians for church activity.

Rev. George A. Briggs, of New York, speaking on "Young People in Their Church," called attention to the unlimited environment and wide field of activities of the church which affords the most profitable outlet for energy and enthusiasm of young people. Young people with initiative are needed.

An open parliament on B. Y. P. U. standards and workers' conferences was held, topics for various groups being work of principal committees, membership, devotional, social, educational, unions, evangelistic, social and executive.

These were very practical and helpful and largely attended. A resolution was adopted requesting that more time on future convention programs be given to such conferences.

Dr. O. C. S. Wallace, of Quebec, presented "Our Baptist Heritage." This, he said, consisted of three things: An ideal of personality with emphasis on freedom of the individual in thought and expresson; a standard of piety which recognized Jesus Christ as our authority; a method of polity which insists upon the separate function of church and state.

Dr. F. E. Taylor, of Indiana, presented the theme, "Present Baptist Responsibility." Our Baptist heritage demands that we reveal to the world a heroic type of Christianity, an intelligent Christianity, a new type of prayer life, a passion for the souls of men. We should resolve to be Bible Christians, prayer Christians, soul-winning Christians.

Young People in the Community and Nation—Saturday, July 4.

This being our great national birthday, the ser-

This being our great national birthday, the services were largely of a patriotic nature. What could be more fitting on such a day than the adoption by such a nation-wide band of young people of such resolutions as these:

- 1. Urging Sabbath observance by our constituency.
- Endorsement of Bible study credits in public schools and colleges.
- Endorsing efforts toward universal peace and commending President Wilson for stand in this matter.
- Condemning the liquor traffic, urging adoption of the Hobson bill for national prohibition and adoption of slogan, "A Saloonless Nation by 1920."

Home mission problems of the north and south were presented by Rev. L. C. Barnes, of New York, and Dr. A. C. Cree, of Georgia.

In 14 states more than 50 per cent of the population of the state are foreign-born, mostly from countries where the open Bible is not known. If we are to successfully meet this condition it is essential that we have our fighting clothes and our working clothes on. Dr. Cree presented a strong array of facts to further emphasize the peril we face in our home mission problem.

The evening was devoted to singing of national anthems and listening to an address by Mr. L. C. Boyle, of Kansas City, representing the Civic Alliance League.

His subject was "The Menace and Problem of the City." We will determine the destiny of our nation as we solve the problem of the city and it is the oportunity of the church to take a leading place in this work.

Young People and the World-wide Kingdom—Sunday, July 5.

The afternoon topic was "Foreign Missions." Inspiring addresses were given on "Student Volunteer Movement," by Wm. H. Stallings, of Illinois; "Northern Baptists in Foreign Lands." by Dr. E. W. Hunt, of Boston, and "Southern Baptists in Foreign Lands," by Dr. C. C. Coleman, of Texas. Then followed the climax of the convention, when a number of young people arose, signifying their purpose to go wherever the call might send them. At the closing service, this evening, various state delegations will give their message in song, to be followed by a testimony meeting, led by Secretary Chalmers.

Richard C. Cabot in his recent book, "What Men Live By," says that real life, he has learned from a long medical experience, demands four invariable elements: Work, play, love, worship; "the interplay of these four is the end of life and its sole worthy end." WHY I ATTEND CHURCH.

Moulton, Ala., July 1, 1914

Dear Brother Editor:

I am indebted to Senator J. H. Bankhead for the following splendid article written by Hon. Claude Weaver, congressman from Oklahoma, and printed first in Leslie's Weekly, afterward read before congress, where it was highly euloquized and copied in the Record.

The article teems with brilliancy, pathos and devotion to the church of God. It deserves to be published in every paper, read and referred to in every church and Sunday school in the land. I heartly commend the elequent article to every reader of the Alabama Baptist.

A. T. SIMS.

Why I Attend Church.

It is sweet on a summer's morning, when the air is aquiver with the love songs of the birds and fragrant with the order of roses blown, to hear the music of the church-going bells, an invitation to the world-wearied to enter God's temple and find peace, because the instinct of worship is in the hearts of man, and the church is the temple of the living God.

I go to church because I find peace there, that peace which DeQuincy described as a resting from human labors, a Sabbath of repose, a respite granted from the secret burdens of the heart, as if I stood at a distance and aloof from the upror of life; as if the tumult and fever and strife were suspended; as if there brooded over me a dove-like and halcyon calm.

I go to church because I love the music that I hear there, the mighty roll of the great organ, mingled with the marvelous symphonies of that divine stringed instrument, the human voice, untwisting all the chains that the the hidden soul of harmony.

I go to church because I delight to hear the teachings of the preacher, whose soul is dedicated to God, whose field is as wide as God's universe, whose theme is the destiny of man, and whose words are the oracles of fate. Marvelous is the spell of the preacher to whom God has given genlus and conservation and the power of illustration drawn from the old, sacred, immortal book, and from the miracles of nature, no less revealed in the crimson-tipped flower turned up by the plowshare of Robett Burns upon the soil of age than in the long reaches of the star-girt skies.

I go to church because "the way is dark and I am far from home," and because the church is the polar star to light my pathway in the rayless night.

I go to church because the church ministers not only to the spiritual but also to the material needs of life, and because it is then that the charities that soothe and heal and bless are scattered at the feet of man like flowers.

I go to church because in that atmosphere vice and crime wither and die,

I go to church because I hear the teachings of the philosophy of Jesus, the incomparable man; and if you say his teaching is philosophy and not religion and that He was a man not a God, then the philosophy of that man has redeemed the world from savagery and blessed mankind with Christian civilization, and, to my mind, it is a thing worth while to hear.

I go to church because I find there consolation and hope; because I see there the dawn and not the sunset; and it is better for man, if the hope is baseless and the vision but an elusive phantom, to cherish a dream so glorious and beautiful than to be weighted down and crushed with the mountains of a world without God and without hope.

October 11-15 Brown University will have one of the greatest events in its history. It will then celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the beginning as Rhode Island College in the town of Warren. Among the distinguished visitors and speakers will be ex-President Taft, E. Benjamin Andrews, Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., more than a dozen presidents of colleges and many other persons eminent in education, literature, commerce and diplomacy.

Northern Baptists have a vision. For example, the budget of benevolences expected within the next 12 months for the various agencies of the convention will aggregate $2,461,835.

SOME NOTES FROM BROTHER CRUMPTON.

Pray for Texas

Probably the most bitter prohibition fight ever waged is now on in Texas. Let fellow Christians pray that God will give His people the victory. It means much to the kingdom if our greatest state goes dry. Kingdom lines are being drawn more losely there than in any similar contest. The liquor forces of the nation against the righteous!

A systematic war is being waged against the preachers. Prominent liquor farmers are being rushed over the state to warn the country people against the "political parson." They declare that the "pages of history are wet with blood shed at the hands of political preachers." The only "political hands of political preachers." The only 'political preachers' of whom that might be said were the Catholics-the "preachers," God save the mark, whom the liquor forces everywhere have enlisted and the sinner. on their side. The Catholics have openly espoused the gospel. God's justice is vindicated, His mercy the cause of the liquor traffic. Secretly they have revealed, and peace secured. Texas they are no longer under cover. A priest has be respected, honored, and obeyed, or that sin, sent out a letter in behalf of the liquor candidate for: which is the transmission of the law shall be pungovernor, saying: "He is not only a personal friend of mine, but a true friend of our church, and for years one of its monthly, generous contributors." Here in Alabama in the late primary word was sent out by those in authority that no Catholic voter, should support a prohibitionist for any office, especially for the legislature, and the word was obeyed to the letter.

Our Baptist and other Christian people need to realize "the fight is on" in America for supremacy. the unrighteous righteous?" Let us, therefore, con-Driven from power in other countries, they seek to sider: install themselves in free America. The liquor power, combined with legalized vice, will be aided by this ever increasing foreign element in the Catholic church. It remains to be seen if the free-born American Catholic can be voted by the priests. Again I say: Let devout hearts petition the Ruler of the universe, our beneficent God, to intervene and save Texas from the curse of rum.

Speaking of Prayer

Reminds me that in all this awful June drouth, in all my travels, I have heard but one man speak of prayer for rain, and he was a man of the world. He said: "You Christians ought to pray for rain; everything is burning up."

Is God the same He was of old? If His ear is not open to the cry of His children now, what profit is there in the claim that the God of Abraham and Isaac and Jacob is our God? He heard their cry in every emergency and sent deliverance. "To whom shall we go" if He who said "Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name He will give it you' has gone back on His promise? Surely humiliation and confession for our sins, followed by prayer for rain, will be answered now as in the olden time. Have we not sinned? Are we not sinning every day? How extravagantly we live! How we lavish gifts on ourselves, and how grudgingly we dole out to God the things which His cause need! How the multitude avoid the place of prayer! How the children of the godly, forgetting their training, "follow the multitude to do evil!" How indifferent and care-less, the best of us live! Are we surprised to witness the signs of God's displeasure? Let the hosts of God recognize in the blistering sun and the hot winds His visitation for the sins of the people and numble themselves before Him and cry to Him for relief.

I have just fallen upon this from "Word and Way," which God's people would do well to study:

"Curse Ye Meroz."

"Have you read the story of Meroz? You will find it in the fifth chapter of the hood of Judges. Under Deborah and Barak a bloody battle had been fought and a splendid victory won. A proud song of tri-umph was sung. The song celebrated the loyalty and valor of the tribes that responded to the call to arms and faced, fought and defeated the enemy. In the midst of the torrential song there poured forth a blistering, bitter curse upon the inhabitants of Meroz, because they came not to the help of the Lord, to the help of the Lord against the mighty.' Meroz heard the call for help, but made no response. Its inhabitants were content to let others face the dangers, fight the battles and win the victories.

What became of the people of Meroz we do not know; but in the midst of the song of triumph the River Baptist Association held its third quarterly all-

THE LAW AND THE GOSPEL

Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other."-Ps. 85:10.

These are the words of the sweet singer of Israel, and they convey to our minds the thought of reconciliation between earth and Heaven, between God and the sinner. We see in them both the law and

But mercy cries, on the behalf of the sinner, for peace and reconciliation. Mercy is as much an attribute of God as justice. All sins deserve to be punished, and truth requires that each sin shall receive its just desert. The great question to be settled is this: "How can the demand of truth and justice be met, mercy shown, and peace secured? Or in other words, how can God be just and the justifier of the ungedly? How can God be righteous and account day meeting with the Winterboro society on June 12. So much is in the welcome one receives to set the heart atune for a good day's work. Nothing lacking in this respect when we reached Winterboro. At the appointed hour the morning session began by all singing the hymn, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," followed by prayer and reading of the 67th Psalm by our superintendent, Mrs. John C. Williams.

Instructive and stimulating reports were heard from those societies represented, all with one exception having met their apportionment; but with a 'long pull and a strong pull' the dear women of this society will have a different report at the annual meeting in September. At least it shall be our prayer that such may be the case.

Many prayers were offered at the throne of grace that great success might attend this onward march in the cause of missions, and they will be answered.

There were many fine subjects on the program, and the earnestness with which they were discussed evidenced the sincerity of these Christian women.

Mrs. John C. Williams gave many helpful and encouraging words on different topics.

Many expressions as to the importance of these quarterly all-day meetings were given. Mrs. Russell said this coming together stimulates the weaker societies. Mrs. Matthews declared that wonderful good is derived from this coming together at stated seasons. Miss Keith said we are getting on a higher plane.

"Place of Prayer in W. M. U. Work," by Mrs. B. P. · Autrey, gave us a glimpse into the holy of holles.

The morning session closed with prayer.

Then came the social hour and a grand feast in the shade of the trees.

The afternoon session was opened with prayer by Mrs. Matthews.

Virginia Prather, a young girl, illustrated the importance of early training by a well written paper on the subject: "Missionary Giving-The Manner, the Measure and the Motive.

Mrs. Brown sang the Jubilate hymn.

In the quiet hush of the afternoon came the crowning hour of the day-the consecration service. Not one but felt the presence of the Master in this sacred hour. It was then we realized what is meant by the words of the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds Our Hearts in Christian Love." Our hearts were full to over flowing.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Howard. ELIZABETH HOOD, Sec'y. of Sylacauga.

And little Miss Tardystel had a green dress. And little Miss Tardygirl had a queer dream. She dreamed that she'd turned to a wee flower elf, And was out in the meadow to live by herself. Her breakfast was served in a big buttercup, But she came there too late, and a bee ate it up! She managed to miss every thistle-down car That went to the knoll where the blueberries are, And she was too late at the Toadstool Cafe, And so she went hungry the long summer day.

> At last it grew dark and she looked for a bed. "I'll sleep in that lily," she drowsily said. To reach it she climbed a grass-stalk so green; How soft was its golden heart, a bed for a queen! "Too late," said the lily, and she shut her bed tight, Leaving poor Tardygirl out in the night. At bedtime she sat in the firelight's gleam, And little Miss Tardygirl woke from her dream. She blinked her blue eyes and she rushed to her bedg "Oh, don't shut it up-I am coming," she said.

SALEM CALLS IN DISTRESS.

The old Massachusetts city of Salem, rich in historic interest for everybody and inseparably associated with the name of Roger Williams in the minds of Baptists everywhere, is in desperate need. On June 25 and 26 a fire raged which destroyed some 3,000 homes and left more than 16,000 people without shelter. The stately building of the First Baptist church, of which Rev. Frederick W. Buis Is pastor, the oldest church house in the city, is unharmed. Its fine new building for its French mission, just completed at a cost of nearly $13,000 is also safe. The fire burned on all sides of it, and its escape seems al-most miraculous. Sixty-eight members of the church saw their homes completely swept away. All except one of these have been found. It seems certain now that that one was

The loss will reach $12,000,000 at ast. The situation is rendered more serious by the fact that so many have lost not only their home, but also their places of business, so cutting off their means of support.

The work of looking after the homeless is being carefully done. The churches have undertaken the care of their own members. In a very few cases undeserving people have been given aid, but the strictest watchfulness is being exercised at this point.

The First Baptist church has appointed a relief committee of twelve to act in the emergency. At the suggestion of that committee the church sends out an appeal to the denomination at large asking for contributions of money. This is not merely for its own members, because their distress alone would not make such an appeal necessary, but for wise use wherever it may be needed.

This committee from the church is working in co-operation with the committee appointed by the city, and there is a perfect understanding be-tween the two. In a disaster of such proportions a very large amount of money must be expended, and the utmost care be exercised in its distribution. It is thought that the Baptists and Baptist churches of the country would like to send their contribution directly to their sister church to be administered in their behalf. The committee has been carefully chosen and is qualified to handle any amount. By its relationship with the municipal committee it is in a position to reach any case of need.

RIBUTE OF RESPECT.

We, the Ladies' Aid of Six Mile Baptist church, send tribute of respect.

"Ah! how soon our hopes decay; We must suffer and endure: Strive and struggle as we may, Life is short and death is sure."

Died at her home, near Six Mile, Ala., July 1, 1914, Mrs. Augusta Anna Fratt, wife of W. C. Pratt.

She was first married to Mr. George Cottingham, with whom she lived until his death. Several years later she was married to Mr. W. C. Pratt.

She leaves a husband, three sons, two daughters and a number of relatives and friends to mourn her loss, Her soul gently took its flight on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The casket was placed before the altar in Enon church Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. A large number of relatives and friends sat in tears while Rev. J. W. Mitchell spoke in behalf of her sainted remains.

She suffered untold agony for three days, but she bore her suffering with Christian fortitude and patience, without a murmur, often repeating if it was God's will she was ready to go.

Indeed she was a true Christian, and has gone to dwell with God and the angels, where there is no more suf-

MRS. J. C. WOOLLEY, MRS. J. M. HAYES, MISS THEO ARNOLD,

Our meeting at Flat Wood, Ala., has just closed. Rev. J. C. Hill, from Goshen, Ala., was with us and did the preaching. The good people there surely have the work of the Lord on their heart. Surely they believe in taking care of their pastor and helper during a revival. Each day God proves his love and mercy more and more. During this week we have received 14 members for baptism, two by letter and one by restoration. With the good prayers of the people, the faithful preacher and the great working power of the Lord a number of the Devil's work shops have been broken into and set on fire with the spirit of God. One of the members was once led off by the Mormons, but, thanks be to God, he said: "I have found the Savior now; that satisfies Our Lord stands ready to open to those who knock. He has meant much to me at all times. May His blessings continue among His people. -Horace G. Williams,

(Glad he is coming to Howard and hope some churches will give him work.)

BROTHER FENDLEY COMES TO GENEVA.

I am now pleasantly located on my new field at Geneva, among as good people as the earth affords.

We held our first service here yes terday, and the congregations were good and interest fine. In the afternoon I went out in an auto seven miles and made a speech on temperance at a Sunday school convention.

It seems that the opportunities here are alomst unexcelled—lots of people and others coming, and those who are here have a mind to work.

Of course our hearts are troubled over leaving our former field in Meridian, Miss. The people had come to eem as though they were really ours. During our pastorate of six years there the Lord was good to us, adding to the membership more than 400 and increasing the Sunday souls school attendance from 56 to 212, and helping us to pay off an indebtedness of 15 years' standing, besides doing about $3,500 worth of improvements. No better church can be found anywhere, but we are here now, and the goodness of the people here will fully compensate for what we sacrificed in eaving there.

I want to say to the people of Alapama that I am not here for my health: neither have I come for a va cation. I am here to stay and work intil the good Lord needs me elsewhere. If I can serve you in any way remember that I am here for that purpose, Use me any time. Abuse me no time. Pray for me all the time. Affectionately,

Last Wednesday night Rev. Lewis W. Dockery, pastor of Richmond Place Baptist church, brought to a close the revival services of the church, which had been conducted the past 10 days with much prayer and consecration. He was ably assisted in the services by his brother, L. G. Dockery, who led the singing, and by a large num-ber of the members of the church who stood by him loyally during all the hot days.

The members believe this revival is going to prove to be the most beneficial and permanent in its results ever held by the church, owing to the fact that the pastor did all the preaching himself. As a result of the meeting 12 confessed Christ as their Savior and asked for Baptism, while seven were received by letter. Three others have told the pastor they were going to send for their letters and place them with us, and several others have manifested deep concern over their soul's welfare. Sunday night a beau tiful scene was witnessed, when nine of the new converts were buried in the waters of baptism. FROM MILLPORT.

We are moving along nicely here Our Sunday school has taken on new life since Brother Davie held the training school here. After the school we made the canvass and arranged separate rooms for the classes, graded the school and got some in who had not previously attended. The church has moved up from one-fourth to half time, and things look more en-couraging. We take collections regu larly for the several interests of our work

The church is very good to the pas-tor and family. We have some of the salt of the earth here. I regard the church twice as strong as when I commenced.

This is the home of Brother A. L. Stephens, one of the state Sunday school workers. He has held a training school here, and is to hold another commencing the 9th of August.

The school is doing good work now. They have a live Woman's Mis-Union and Sunbeam band, with Sister Stephens leading.

We have celled the house, and the paint is ready to put on; a new bell has been bought, and we take collections according to the calendar. With such workers as Brother and Sister Stephens, Sister Brown, Brother Mayhall and others, I am expectng in the near future to see this church move up to full time, with a pastor located on the field. So you see we are marking some progress all along the line.

As to myself, I am in poor health, and have been for some time. There is such a demand for my services I regret that I am not able to do more.

In this and adjoining counties there is a great deal of friction among Baptists-board and anti-board. Division and strife reign supreme, churches divided and dividing, until it now looks like there will be a complete division. Pray for us over here that the will of the Lord may be done.

T. W. SHELTON.

The Baptists ministers of the Birmingham district will have a pastors' picnic at Avondale Park on Monday, the 20th. A regular session of the Pastors' Conference will be held at 10:30 in the tabernacle of the Avondale Baptist church. All pastors are expected to be present and are urged to bring their families. Revs. P. C. Barkley, John W. Inzer and W. S. Brown are the committee on arrangements. Revs. Wm. Blackwelder and John W. Inzer will furnish the topics for discussion.

LOCUST GROVE INSTITUTE

LOCUST GROVE, GA.

Prospective Preparatory School Patrons:

To place a pupil in the wrong school is unfortunate. Mistakes would fewer if adequate care were given to the selection of a school.

The worth of a school is not measured wholly by its scholastic and material equipment. Plain appointments are not inconsistent with thorough work. Magnificent buildings are not always synonymous with the most valuable training. The ideals, the moral tone, the standards of scholarship, the relation of pupils and teachers,—these and other silent influences give real value to an institution of learning.

While Locust Grove Institute, in equipment, does not suffer in comparison with other preparatory schools, yet buildings are not its greatest asset. It is these certain well established traditions, together with the fact that no change in management has been made for 17 years, that give this school a character and personality all its own.

The fact, though, that this has been the best school for many does not necessarily mean that it is the best for all. It is not, dt has some of the good features for which you are seeking, so the interest of your child demands that an investigation be made of the advantages offered here.

Former pupils, patrons and the Georgia Colleges know us best. quire of them. Out new catalogue is ready for distribution. It gives reliable information concerning equipment, courses and cost. A copy will be sent for the asking. Write for it.

TIMMERMANDONOVAN.

A marriage of unusual interest was that of Mr. James McKissie Timmerman, of Montgomery, and Miss Ida Belle Donovan, which was beautifully solenmized at 4 3 clock Wednesday afternoon, June 34 at "Oak Grove Cottage," the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Donovan, at Mountain Creek.

The home was begutifully decorated with smilax, ferns and cut flowers. In the parlor, where the ceremony was performed, the other scheme was white and green. The altar was beau-tifully arranged with palms and ferns studded with Easter lilies. White tapers burned in filver candelabra, casting a soft glow over the pretty

Before the ceremony Mrs. J. L. Roberts, of Montgomery, sang very sweetly "I Hear You Calling Me" and "Because I Lover you, Dear." She was accompanied on the plane by Mrs. J. E. Gordon, of Deatsville, a girlhood friend of the bride, who also played Mendelssofins wedding march as the bridale party entered.

IN MEMORIAM.

L. Rinehart was born June 1, 1868, near Broomtown, Am., in Cherokee county. On December 25, 1890, he was married to Miss Mary Fatrow. He died November 29, 1913, and was buried in Mt. Bethel cemetery,

In early life he professed faith in Christ as his Savior and joined Mt. Bethel Baptist church. He remained diligent, consecrated member until death. He had been deacon of the church, Sunday school superintendent and teacher for a number of years, and performed his fluties faithfully. He was a regular subscriber to the denominational papers and took great interest in the things which pertain to righteousness. He was a successful business man, having accumulated quite an abundance of this world's goods. He gave generously of his means to all benevolent purposes. He leaves a wife and seven children, with a host of relatives and friends, to mourn his death. He was a devoted husband and father, and it was his eager desire for his children to become Christians.

We miss him as a relative, as a citizen, and above all we miss him in the church relations.

We mourn not as shose who have no hope, for we believe if we live godly lives we shall meet him in the house not made with hands."

Born in Elmore county November 6, 1868, the daughter of Col. and Mrs S. D. Oliver, she was married November 2, 1887, to R. A. Nalls. Mother and husband still survive, as also three sons and three daughters. Hers was a positive character, be tiful and kind, that always inspired confidence and, backed with good judgment, she naturally became leader. Her children and friends alike sought her for advice and counsel, which was always given in her own kindly way. She made many friends who were of the true and lasting type, and they enjoyed being asked by her to help in any work she had in hand for the glory of the Master and the advancement of her church, which she loved as dearly as her own household. Paul never felt any prouder of the women who helped him than she was appreciated by her WALTER S. BROWN. pastor.

I have resigned here, to take effect the 1st of September. I want some work around Birmingham, expect to enter Howard.-C. M. Cloud, Milltown.
